Mansion tour attracts 1,700

By PATHAY LUTZ
of the Press-Record

A surprise tour guide gave reporters an inside look at Granite City history when Janice Brimberry led the tour of her former home on Friday.

The 17-room mansion on Parkview Drive has been surrounded by controversy and mystery since it was alleged in 1981 that the owners, Thomas and Janice Brimberry, had built the elaborate house with up to $1.8 million of embezzled Stix and Co. funds.

Leon Streif, owner of Vandell Bus Lines, bought the home from the Bank of Edwardsville, which reassumed the title for $330,000 at a foreclosure sale in 1983.

Streif had previously indicated that he did not want to be linked with Thomas Brimberry in any way. However, he agreed to display his new home to the public to satisfy curiosity seekers, and conducted tours Saturday and Sunday as a fund raiser for the Old Six Mile Historical Society.

More than 1,700 persons toured the home during the weekend. The demand was particularly high Sunday as the number of tour guides was expanded from six to 10, each taking groups of 25 persons at a time through the house.

Still, lengthy waits were experienced by some who had not purchased advance tickets.

Visitors were shuttled from St. John United Church of Christ to the mansion in Vandell buses. One bus was driven by Leon Streif himself.

During Friday's press tour, Mrs. Brimberry was there at the request of the news media. She claimed no regrets in showing her former home to reporters and photographers, and detailed the plans and construction of the home. According to Mrs. Brimberry, her husband supervised

Campaign meeting criticized

A school election campaign meeting was held Saturday afternoon at the office of School Attorney William Schooley. School Board President Donald Stucke said last night.

The meeting was cited earlier by David Partney, a board member, as possibly failing to comply with the Illinois Open Meetings Act.

Speaking Sunday from the office of Attorney Leon Scroggins, Partney told the Press-Record he has asked Scroggins to consult today with Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber on whether the closed session was proper.

Partney said he believes that those at Saturday's meeting included Stucke, Board Secretary George Moore and Board Members Robert Maxwell and Monroe Worthen. Four would constitute a majority of the board, he noted.

Stucke said he thinks Moore, Maxwell and Worthen were present but that he was not there. "I was playing golf at the country club in Edwardsville," the board president said, naming his golf partner. "There were not four members present."

Another point voiced by Partney was that three school administrators were in attendance—two central office administrators and an elementary school principal.

Stucke said this may have been true but that he does not personally plan to bring up the issue at tomorrow night's board meeting. There is past precedent for administrative interest in election outcomes, he commented.

Purpose of the meeting was to plan a campus fund-raising event in October at the Rollins building, Pres. Stucke reported.

Stucke said he and others propose to support four board candidates in the Nov. 8 election—Stucke and Moore for two two-year terms, and Maxwell and Kenneth Davis for two of the three four-year terms that will be decided; Davis is not a member. No stand is being taken on another four-year post, Stucke added.

Also on the ballot for two-year terms, in addition to Stucke and Moore, are Bob Braundmeyer, Alan Crider and Ruth D. Lahr.

Those on the ballot for four-year positions include Tom Miosky and the sixth and seventh board members. Their current four-year terms began in 1981.

Partney said he does not know the topic of the meeting, and that he only learned of the gathering indirectly, but that he feels the presence of several board members raises questions.

"As an alternate member of the two-member group on the school district's negotiating committee last spring, I was told I should leave a meeting because the presence of three members would be a majority of a quorum,"

Partney recalled. The list he discussed in reference to Saturday afternoon's meeting included board members, three School District Nine administrators, Schooley, Kenneth Davis and Alderman Steve Sattich, who is a former school board president.

Also mentioned by Partney were another alderman plus Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and a Belleville Area College administrator.

Rounding out the group, as Partney reconstructed it through an informant, was a longtime Democratic precinct committeeman.

If the meeting was political in nature, Partney remarked, since he was not invited it may indicate that some of the present board members do not want Partney to continue on the board after Nov. 8.

Elected to a three-year term four and a half years ago, he received an extension of the term under a revision of the Illinois election law.

Partney said that at present he has not teamed with any of the other candidates for the fall campaign.

School budget revised

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A new and probably final version of the 1983-84 Granite City school budget, to be considered tomorrow night, is expected to show a number of changes.

The tentative amendment enacted a month ago assumed there would be pay cuts for employees, but negotiators later agreed to a "freeze" of the teacher salary schedule. Talks are in progress with other employee groups on their "83-84 pacts."

Most administrators' pay was cut 10 percent July 1. A possible adjustment of Economic Opportunity money policies challenged

Criticism is increasing regarding the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission's emphasis on—and ineffectiveness in—home "weatherization" projects.

Transfer of more than $240,000 in energy assistance funds to weatherization (residential insulation) was called "highly irregular" last week by Wayne Curtis, manager of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs' weatherization and energy assistance programs.

Reuben Williams, EOC executive director in Madison County, disagreed with Curtis and described the transfer as a normal practice.

Curtis said he takes "strong exception" to Williams' assertion that the DCCA created a cash flow problem for the EOC here by withholding weatherization money.

EOC procedures are being blamed not only for reducing overall energy aid fund availability but also for delaying payment of bills to two utilities which have been providing service to low-income persons.

DCCA has given the EOC until Sept. 30 to pay $183,000 to Illinois Power Co. and $54,000 to Union Electric Co.

Thorton Ridinger, chief of the DCCA office of energy and community services, said his agency provided funds to EOC to relay to the utilities in April but that the money still has not reached IP or UE.

DCCA channels assistance grants from the federal government to local agencies such as the EOC.

Saying it has not been told where the money is, the state has ordered a special audit to determine how all Madison County EOC dollars received through the DCCA were utilized.

In disputing that "cash flow" was ever a valid issue, Curtis cited DCCA records showing that more than $473,000 for energy aid and weatherization was sent here in mid-April and that only $100,000 in weatherization program funding was held up by the DCCA, in June.

In addition to the $237,000 owed to the utilities, about $13,000 is owed to small vendors, such as heating oil suppliers, Curtis estimated.

He said the state paid the EOC the balance of its entire energy assistance allocation of $1,126,173, about $280,000, by April 11 and that the EOC immediately should have paid the utilities.

Curtis said the two utilities were "very patient" but did contact DCCA in late May to inquire about the delay. IP and UE quoted the EOC as saying the delay was occurring because it had not received its money from the state.

DCCA then ordered a special audit, which is expected to be completed by the end of this month.

At Adams, IP public affairs director at his headquarters, Decatur, said the firm is encouraged now that the state is taking steps to investigate and resolve the problem. He knows of no other agencies where there have been similarly large or long delays, he commented.

Because of the action that is being taken, the utility has no plans to bill the specific customers who were assisted, Adams added.

A UE spokesman said the fuel bills in question are from last winter. If they have not been paid by October, a decision will be made on the next step to be taken, he related.

Seek 'superfunds' for lead cleanup

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Illinois) and State Rep. Sam W. Wolf (D-Granite City) will be investigating the merits of using federal "superfunds" to clean up the state's largest hazardous waste pile, located a few blocks from downtown Granite City. Reluctance by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to nominate the three-acre, 200,000-ton lead pile—for federal funds intended for toxic site cleanups—was criticized at a public hearing conducted here Thursday night.

Wolf said he would sponsor a special supplemental revenue bill to partially support the cleanup, if the state's hesitation is based on its estimated $2 million share of the $20 million removal and processing project.

"It's a problem I'm going to follow, and it's a problem the community has, and that has to be addressed," Wolf said. "The waste pile is something that can't be good as far as the general health of the community is concerned."

Percy, chairman of the U.S. Senate's Energy Subcommittee, has assigned staff person Nancy Ginn to look into the situation. Contacted in Washington D.C. Friday, she said an initial discussion on the lead pile had already been conducted with federal EPA officials.

Before the EPA can act on funding the waste pile cleanup, the state will first have to recommend such action, she said. She plans to contact IEPA officials to see how they view the situation.

If the state does decide to seek "superfunding," Percy's staff will "help if we can," she said.

Honored for saving life

Ron Clark of Granite City has been awarded with a plaque engraved, "Whose quick response and CPR knowledge saved the life of another," for saving the life of a 73-year-old man whose pulse had stopped as the result of an acute heart attack at the Prairie Farms Dairy Granite City plant.

A qualified emergency medical technician, Clark applied cardio-pulmonary resuscitation until the ambulance crew arrived and continued the procedure.

Prairie Farms requires properly trained employees (first aid including CPR) to be at each plant for such emergencies, but this was Clark's first experience in applying CPR in an emergency situation.

Clark is a 13-year employee of Prairie Farms, and works as a cooler and loadout worker at the Granite City plant.

Fire hazard high in state forests

Because the summer's hot, dry weather has left Illinois forests and fields tinderbox dry, Department of Conservation personnel are manning offices in Benton, Alton, Sparta and Gortle on weekends when fire danger levels are rated "high" as well as throughout the week to monitor the wildfire situation.

Some wildfires already have been reported on state property and on private lands, according to Al Mickelson, DCC Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage chief, which is unusual for this time of year.

Wildfires normally do not become a serious threat until later in the fall, when dry leaves and under-story covering the forest floor becomes a potential point of ignition for forest fires. This year, however, the extended hot, dry weather has created conditions conducive to wildfire fires nearly a month before natural resource managers normally expect them.

As a result, persons using public lands for camping or other forms of recreation are urged to use extreme caution. Mickelson said use of cigarettes, pipes or cigars should be limited in the field, and smokers who do smoke while in the wild should be alert to sparks blown from their smoking materials and should avoid discarding spent matches that are still warm to the touch. Extreme caution should be exercised in using camping stoves, gas-powered lanterns and any gasoline powered equipment. Vehicles equipped, with catalytic converters should not be driven over dry stubble or grass which could risk ignition through contact with the converter.

Even a cigarette casually tossed from a moving car can roll into dry vegetation and initiate a fire that can destroy hundreds of acres of valuable woodlands and wildlife habitat.

With early hunting seasons, such as those for dove and squirrel, now open, it is critical that outdoor recreationists be aware of the potential threat of wildfires and that they take measures to prevent them.

Mickelson said the threat is extremely serious in Southern Illinois where the Bureau of National Forest covers vast expanses of the landscape. However, because the dry weather has been extensive, wildfires can be a problem anywhere in the state.

Persons planning trips in the southern part of the state should be aware that the Department of Conservation and U.S. Forest Service have posted Smokey the Bear signs at various public locations which are updates to advise visitors of fire danger levels.

Long range weather forecasts indicate the dry weather will not be relieved by significant amounts of rain before the normal firewatch season would have begun in October. Therefore, outdoorspersons should be aware of the danger and take measures to guard against wildfires from now until the first winter snow cover relieves the danger.

SUIE offers honors humanities

Two subjects of widespread current interest will be the focus of the Humanities Honors courses offered in the 1983 fall quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. "Eroticism in Literature" will be taught by Dicke Spurgeon, professor in the department of English language and literature. "Literature and Culture of American Indians" will be a joint venture of G. William Linden, professor of philosophy, and Fred Robbins, assistant professor of English.

The course on American Indians is a literary and philosophical examination of the subject. It will study Indian myths, values and concepts, views of the whites, and stereotypes in white culture. Students will be given research projects for class discussion. The class as a whole will read and talk about such books as "Black Elk Speaks," "Laughing Boy," and "The Way to Rainy Mountain." The course meets from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays. Authors who deal with erotic subjects and attitudes will be studied in "Eroticism in Literature."

In Literature." They will include Henry Miller, J. P. Donleavy, John Cleland, Pauline Reage, Frank Harris, James Joyce, Marguerite de Sade, William S. Burroughs and Wu Wu Meng. The emphasis will be on the literary aspects of these works—character, theme, plot, and language. Social background also will be considered. Course meets from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Monday and Friday afternoons.

Humanities Honors courses are targeted to outstanding students—those with grade point averages of 3.25 or better or deemed qualified by the consent of the instructor. Although they are oriented to the humanities, the courses can have a cross-disciplinary interest. They can be counted towards a major in English, philosophy or foreign languages, with departmental approval.

For further information about specific courses, the instructors may be contacted directly. For general information concerning the Humanities Honors Program, students may call Ron Glossop at 1-692-3376 or 2250.

DeRuntz promotion clarified

Michael DeRuntz, 3224 Wayne Ave., has been promoted from acting city building inspector to building inspector. A Sept. 9 article in the Press-Record made the promotion unclear. He has been employed by the city for four years. He served as an engineering technician, prior to his two most recent positions.

DeRuntz, 36, is a native of Granite City. He received his bachelor's degree in regional planning from Peru State College.

He is grand knight of the Tri-Cities Council 1088 of the Knights of Columbus. DeRuntz and his wife, Mary, have a daughter, Stephanie.

Book woman on weapons charge

Sandra K. McMillan, 34, of the 3100 block of Aubrey Avenue, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and assault when arrested last week at a financial firm in Belleville Village Shopping Center.

Mrs. McMillan was taken into custody following an incident at the home of a relative in the 2800 block of Edwards Street, where she allegedly made threats against an individual for whom an unpaid loan had been co-signed by her and her ailing husband, reports said.

The man for whom the loan was co-signed, also a relative who lives elsewhere, was hiding at the dwelling and a pistol was displayed at the time of confrontation, he alleged.

Mrs. McMillan left the dwelling when the man agreed to go to the loan company and settle the matter. However, police were called and she was arrested at the business firm. An unloaded 9mm automatic pistol allegedly was removed from her purse and the charges followed.

Mrs. McMillan was released on notice to appear in court for a hearing.

Auditions this week for MacBeth

Belleville Area College will be holding tryouts for this fall's production of "MacBeth" Wednesday through Saturday, Sept. 21 through 24.

Those trying out should be prepared to read the script and follow basic stage direction, said director Chuck Zeller. "You do not have to be a BAC student to try out," he said.

The cast of about 30 includes at least six major roles, Zeller said. Men with beards are especially welcome to audition, he added.

Tryouts will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 21, and from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 22, in the BAC theater. They will continue from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23, in room 1410. Tryouts on Saturday, Sept. 24, will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m. in the theater.

All tryouts are at the Belleville campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville. The play will be presented Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 17 through 19.

exclusion are those involved with St. Louis Lead Recyclers, whose representatives say their company has the equipment and potential, but apparently not the funds, to clean up the huge lead, slag and waste pile.

Lead Recyclers borders the waste pile at 15th and State streets. The original intention of the firm was to mine the waste pile, until the price of lead dropped.

"Attorney Daniel Stack of Stockcorp, the firm which developed the lead pile recycling company, told IEPA officials at the public hearing his firm will soon be leaving the area, unless the federal government intervenes.

"Instead, the state has filed a claim in bankruptcy court against Taracorp, Inc., of Atlanta, Ga., owners of the Granite City lead smelter facility, for costs of cleaning up the waste pile.

"Daniel Stack said he is concerned the bankruptcy hearing could drag on for a lengthy period of time "as the pile continues to pollute."

"James J. Maloney, IEPA spokesman, said the state has expressed a desire "to get people who put the lead pile there to clean it up."

"The ownership of the pile, however, has changed hands several times. Taracorp purchased the smelter and waste pile from NL Industries (formerly National Lead Co.) in 1979.

NL purchased the property in 1928 from the United Lead Co., which acquired the company in 1962 from Hoyt Metal Co. The IEPA estimates the waste pile has been in existence for the life of the plant.

At the hearing, IEPA representatives of the Division of Air Pollution Control outlined the controversial State Implementation Plan (SIP) to control airborne levels of lead pollution found in the Quad-City area. A final plan is expected to be turned over to the federal EPA Sept. 30, after residents and area firms have had an opportunity to present alternative solutions.

Besides calling for controls of Taracorp, smelter emissions and certain processes, the state plan would require: the seeding or coating of unpaved plant grounds, which would include the waste pile; the fencing of all the waste pile; the fencing of all the waste pile; the fencing of all the waste pile; the fencing of all the waste pile.

The waste pile currently lies exposed to wind and water erosion as well as potential water runoff and groundwater seepage problems. The lead content of Taracorp's grounds to reduce wind erosion and trespassing, and the banning of all traffic on the waste pile except for reclamation purposes.

The waste pile currently lies exposed to wind and water erosion as well as potential water runoff and groundwater seepage problems. The lead content of Taracorp's grounds to reduce wind erosion and trespassing, and the banning of all traffic on the waste pile except for reclamation purposes.

The pile borders the Tri-City Truck ing parking lot and other traffic areas, additionally exposing the pile to mobile lead emissions.

Sam Sobol, an executive of Taracorp, said he did not believe the waste pile was a source of air pollution, citing a safe lead reading recorded this year.

Tamplin said, however, that weather conditions and the reduced level of operations at the plant would have to be considered before the low reading this year could be taken as an indication of future air lead levels.

Others testifying at the hearing were Fourth Ward Alderman Phillip Miller; Gary Brooks, city air pollution employee; Terrance McMillan, wastewater plant superintendent, and St. Louis Lead Recyclers workers.

McMillan told the IEPA, "There could be and probably is, runoff from the goop (waste pile)." He said future contamination from the pile might someday place the city in liability in observing wastewater regulations.

The treated wastewater is released into the Mississippi River. In times of treatment plant overload, untreated water is released directly into the river. Also testifying was the owner of a tavern, located at 1112 State St., Madison, that had its parking lot coated in the past with crushed batteries from the pile. He was advised to have his parking lot tested.

Mansion tour

every step of the construction and conferred with the interior decorator, Sharon Kline, to make sure that exact specifications were followed.

Mrs. Kline was available to explain room designs, a role she termed "any designer's dream." Mrs. Kline spent 11 months decorating the house, an almost unlimited budget and the house, which started out as "just a big house," quickly became an elaborate mansion as money poured in.

Mrs. Brimberry stressed that the house was not the castle that press and public rumors had made it, stating, "We weren't that extravagant. We just started out building a very nice home."

The "very nice home" has four fireplaces, 11 bathrooms containing gold-plated fixtures and washbasins painted in Mexico, pigskin wall-coverings and a climate controlled sauna, where the control panel allows the user to select "Baja Sun," "Jungle Stream," "Tropic Rain," "Spring Showers" and "Chinook Winds."

Mrs. Brimberry stated that an eight-year-old magazine clipping was the model for the kitchen.

Cabinets, carved wood refrigerator doors and a built-in pastry safe do indeed present a "dream kitchen," and the cost for these items alone was $65,000.

The kitchen does not compare, however, with the downstairs bar, built of oak and etched mirrors. Carved wood tiles on the ceiling and walls complement the stained glass mirrors, giving the room a look that any restaurant would be proud to have.

Unfortunately, the elaborate bar and game room were used only once by the Brimberys during an open house party given for approximately 75 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Brimberry says that she misses the house that she lived in for only four months, but labels it as "a material thing" which "ruined her list of priorities. Her main concern, she says, is supporting her husband, who is serving a 10-year prison sentence after being convicted of obstructing justice during the investigation into the embezzlement of $16 million from Stix. She also is worried about supporting herself and her three children.

She refused to answer questions about $250,000 worth of furniture, much of which is directly matched to rooms in the house, because of the questions of ownership. The Brimberys had allegedly agreed to sell the furniture to the Stixs, but the transaction was halted by the bankruptcy trustee for Stix, who claims that the furniture was purchased with Stix money and is therefore subject to bankruptcy transactions.

At all possible, Stix intends to buy the furniture and he was scheduled to appear in federal bankruptcy court in St. Louis this morning to plead his case. In any event, the Stixs plan to move into the home on Oct. 1, and hope to lead a "quiet life" in Granite City. "We wanted to get rid of the curious," he said of offering the tours to the public.

ZONING BOARD TO STUDY 3 REQUESTS

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct three on-site public hearings on Chouteau Island Friday, Sept. 23.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. Friday at Johnnie's Fishing Lake on West Chain of Rocks Road, Chouteau Island, where John Cavar, Jr. and Kathleen E. Cavar, are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home for the Cavar family.

The property is zoned R-3 for single-family residential use.

At 9:25 a.m., the zoning board will meet on the northern end of Chouteau Island where Okie Moore is requesting a variance to develop and use land in a flood hazard area.

The third hearing is to begin at 9:30 a.m. in the same location where Okie Moore seeks rezoning of about five acres from agricultural use to M-2 general manufacturing zoning.

After the hearings, the board will meet at its office in the county courthouse at Edwardsville to render its recommendations.

County to act on five zoning recommendations

The Madison County Board, meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the county courthouse at Edwardsville, will consider several recommendations of the county's Zoning Board of Appeals on Quad-City areas.

The zoning board is recommending that:

- A special use permit to Fred and Sharon Hartline and Mary Sever and her son, John Sever, to place a single wide mobile home at 4125

Division St., for their lifetimes be denied.

- A request by Fred Hartline and Patricia Ann Hill be denied. They seek a special use permit to place a mobile home for up to five years at 4125 Division Street while a permanent residence is constructed.

- A special use permit to Louise Hill be granted a special use permit to continue placement of a mobile home which was placed at 5204 Lakeview Drive under a permit granted to another person.

The zoning board recommends the permit be granted for up to five years for the sole occupancy of the Hill family.

Mrs. Buchana will offer a slide presentation demonstrating the work sites that are operated by Specialized Services.

Also appearing on the show will be Louis Hansen, a former client who now works at the Granite City Army Depot.

The program will be shown Sept. 21 and 28 on Channel E-18 at 5:30 p.m. Shirley Blasingame of Co-Ordinated Youth services is the hostess.

ALLEGES MAN, 51, DE CLINES TO LEAVE

Called to the Red Fox Grocery, 420 Broadway, Venice, at 9:40 a.m. Sunday, officers were advised that an alleged troublemaker was refusing to leave.

Lloyd T. Hemmingway, 51, of 85 Garesche Homes, Madison, reportedly had been asked to leave by the owner, Bob Boothman, but allegedly refused and became belligerent. Officers also requested Hemmingway to leave the store twice, but when he went outside, he allegedly refused to leave the store area and was arrested.

During the arrest, force was needed to get Hemmingway into a police vehicle, reports stated. The man also declined to give information at Venice police station and he was charged with (disorderly) conduct and resisting arrest.

Anti-Price activity is political

A steady drumbeat of public statements and news articles is seeking to pressure Melvin Price of the 21st Illinois District to not seek his 21st consecutive two-year term in Congress in 1984, when he will be 79 years old. Observers say the frenzied verbiage is an attempt by St. Clair Countyans to capture the Congressional seat for their County Board chairman, Jerry Costello, 33, a member of a family long active in that county's politics.

All the heated talk could be the key: it may seem far easier to Costello to bluff the congressman out of running than to actually defeat him on next year's ballots. The current cannoning is intended to make the incumbent panic. But after decades of analyzing and responding to such worries as Russian missiles and bombs, we doubt that the national defense expert is going to be frightened by a few unkind words from a few neighbors.

Price says he is in relatively good health, that he has a better record of attendance, activity and results than most legislators, and that he expects to run and win in 1984. He has been doing that regularly since November 1944, when his initial election victory transferred him from Army non-commissioned officer duties to Washington legislative tasks.

His effectiveness as atomic energy chairman and then armed services committee leader has won high praise for his knack of getting to the heart of complex matters. Generals, admirals and cabinet members have found at hundreds of hearings that the man with the gavel has consistently "done his homework."

The veteran congressman says he is serving diligently and has the best labor record at the Capitol. He notes that a number of those serving in Washington are older than him.

He might have added, but did not, that he has done a lot of helpful things for a lot of people over the years and that, even now, he can probably accomplish more in a few minutes of telephone conversation than a new congressman could achieve with weeks of knocking on doors and debating issues.

Price is second in seniority among the 430 congressmen and still heads the powerful armed services panel. He is an advocate of a strong national defense, including operations at Scott Air Force Base in St. Clair County.

Costello, whose campaign group is headed by Democratic State Central Committeeman Bruce Cook, says he may run whether or not Price is a candidate, but thinks the congressman should retire due to age and health factors.

Some labor officials are said to be climbing onto Costello's bandwagon but we would not want to bet a large sum of money against the able and well-liked incumbent, whose landslide wins have been too numerous to count.

Good home in a good community

When a widely-known Granite Cityan committed a few felonies several decades ago, the Chicago Tribune could account for his sins only by pointing out simplistically that his point of origin was a "grimy mill town."

We think a St. Louis daily could have discussed the former Brimberry home here in some other way Saturday than "splendor in the horseshed." The home may be the most expensive in Granite City but it was built in a neighborhood of other exceptionally attractive and costly residences. The Parkway and Westmoreland area is superior to most St. Louis districts.

We object to the reference to "a blue-collar Granite City neighborhood within sight of steel mill smokestacks" because it conveys an image of a jewel-like home set in a slum community, which is ridiculously far from factual.

The mansion obviously is of great interest to the public. Seventeen hundred people paid $5 apiece to tour it during the weekend, and the proceeds will go toward eventual establishment of a local historical museum. There has been much good in local history, dating back nearly two centuries, and the museum will call appropriate attention to it.

The home clearly is a landmark. It is a bit gaudy in places but it is a solid value with many luxuries, and a big bargain for its new owner.

What helped put the structure in the limelight was the fact that its original tenant was the key figure in a stock brokerage collapse that deprived a lot of people of their hard-earned money.

The scheme looted various accounts of many millions of dollars, and perhaps $1,800,000 of that went into the mansion. (Some of the tasks were done the hard and costly way, full value may have not been obtained for some of the dollars.)

In any case, it is an interesting dwelling with a colorful past. Its positive aspect includes the fact that it has attracted a fine family, the Streifs, to a fine community.

Horseshed, by the way, is not a valid putdown, anyway. The market is a bit depressed now, but for many years Madison County has been the horseshed capital of the world, the chief source for a truly delightful food delicacy.

Something seriously wrong here

When Titus Tomescu, 17, came with his parents to this country from Romania a year ago, he was enthusiastic about his prospects in this legendary land of opportunity. He was confident he would find a job and earn lots of money.

Sure enough, Titus landed a part-time job this summer as a grocery bagger in Chicago, where the family had settled. But he was wholly unprepared for that capitalistic pitfall native Americans know so well as the payroll deduction, commonly known as withholding.

Young Tomescu's gross pay for his first 17 hours' work totaled $63.75. But $63.74 of this was deducted—all but 1 cent. Federal income taxes took $4.41, Social Security $4.27. (Please note, the SS tax for some wage earners now almost equals federal income taxes); state income taxes accounted for another $2.23 and insurance $2. The rest went for dues to the United Food and Commercial Workers Union that he was obliged to join as a condition for employment.

Even more galling than the 1-cent paycheck for his first week of work, according to Titus, was that "the whole store made fun of me."

To be sure, this is a dramatic example of the deductions that afflict American paychecks. After all, Titus took home the magnificent sum of $3.00 after the second week and this amount will increase after he pays off the union initiation fee and the balance of back and future dues.

But, the natural fun-poking of fellow store employees aside, Titus Tomescu's experience of taking home peanuts after a week's work is not funny. It's pathetic. And it makes a big statement about the current U.S. sociological scene. It succinctly summarizes an explanation about why millions of Americans prefer welfare to work.

Members of the Press-Record staff asked those visiting the downtown area if they believe Granite City should be considered for federal Superfund to clean up a 200,000-ton waste dump containing lead, located at 15th and State streets. Their reactions follow.

Howard Musick, Granite City

"Seems to me they are paying plenty of money to clean up dioxin in Missouri. They should also pay for this situation."

James Aubuschn, formerly of Granite City

"Sure they should, because this stuff sooner or later is going to run off into the water system."

Barbara Barnes, Granite City

"Yes, I do. I just think that it should be cleaned up. We've got enough problems without all that."

Gail Newberry, Mitchell

"Probably, if they (industry) paid into the Superfund, they should receive from it, if it's a situation that needs to be cleaned up."

Danforth seeks revised gas pricing rules

To the Editor:

Missouri consumers should pay no more than fair market prices for natural gas imported from Algeria, Canada and Mexico.

(ERA), which is the federal agency responsible for considering natural gas imports on a case-by-case basis.

In order to protect Americans from over-priced foreign gas, the agency should change the standards it uses in judging proposals for imports.

Missouri receives gas from Algeria and Canada, sold at prices far higher than the price of available domestic gas. The chief source of Algerian gas used in Missouri is Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company, federal authority for the imports was granted in 1977.

Over the past decade, we have seen a policy which has allowed prices to go up during periods of tight markets. We must now ensure that prices will go down when markets are soft. It is, therefore, essential that prices set in a contract be responsive to market conditions in the particular area where that gas is consumed.

Urges senators to increase Medicare funding

To the Editor:

Congress has just returned to Washington from its summer recess. One of the first orders of business will be new and deeper cuts in the Medicare program.

President Reagan and many members of the senate will be seeking Medicare savings through increased beneficiary co-payments, higher deductibles and premiums, as well as freeze in physician reimbursement levels, all of which will add to your annual out-of-pocket payments for medicare.

The proposal being touted as a freeze in reimbursement to doctors will, in many cases, mean that the elderly more. Without across-the-board cost-containment, this proposal will result in further cost-shifting and higher out-of-pocket expenses for seniors.

While medical inflation will cause physicians to charge higher fees, Medicare reimbursement to physicians would remain the same as it is now, and the elderly would be forced to pay the difference.

Today, Medicare covers only 44 percent of your total health care costs. If Congress enacts this proposal, Medicare would cover even less!

Action on this proposal and other recommendations for cutting Medicare are before the Senate Finance Committee for their consideration now. Every U.S. senator should hear of our opposition to measures that would shift even greater costs to Medicare beneficiaries.

Please write your senators as soon as you receive this publication. It is crucial that they receive many letters protesting the Medicare cuts. Tell them that the solution to rising health care cost is system-wide health care consumer containment legislation ... no cuts in Medicare!

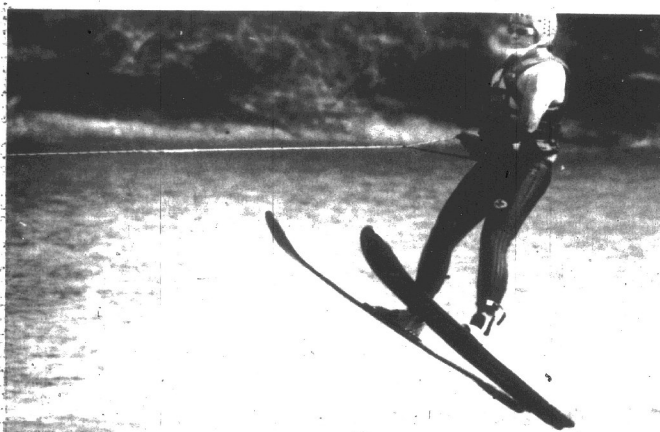

Write today to U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510, and U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

School budget

that decision may be discussed this fall. Revisions also are possible in budgeted income, since some of the revenue listed in the budget is now regarded as unlikely to be received.

The budget received its initial tentative and "final" approvals last winter, enabling second-year tax borrowing to proceed. With more definite financial information becoming available during the summer, a new round of hearings and votes was scheduled.

Hearings at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow will relate to the latest budget proposal and to a projected 12 percent real estate tax levy increase—a $9,987,723 levy for 1983 compared to $8,917,500 for 1982.

As the administrative district for the Quad-City special education program, Granite City District Nine also will consider final special education budgeting. The $576,923 special education plan given preliminary approval in August listed $144,389 salaries, $30,382 employee benefits, $382,351 purchased services, $11,800 supplies and materials and $8,000 health and administrative services.

For District Nine itself, the August budget figures for 1983-84 showed a $24,059,663 expenditure total—consisting of $20,159,869 education, $1,840,689 buildings, $1,455,400 transportation and $624,696 employee retirement.

As noted, these amounts are subject to change Tuesday night. Revenue for the current year was estimated in August at $25,926,053.

Whether there actually will be a positive balance, enabling operating debt to be reduced, is unknown at this time.

The district's deficit has been growing in recent years; in 1982-83, the schools spent $47,127 more than their income ($29,214,895 expended, compared to $24,457,773 revenue). The unreserved fund balance June 30 was a negative $7,954,366.

Norman S. Ovaca, director of finance, said an amended budget was drawn up this summer to replace the first 1983-84 budget, which was "developed to meet the school's need to borrow second-year tax anticipation warrants during the 1982-83 school year."

The second-year warrants became necessary as we received $915,318 less in state aid revenue and experienced a decrease of $386,103 in corporate personal property replacement taxes for a total reduction of $1,301,419 compared to 1981-82.

"In addition, all other state funding programs have been reduced from our estimated 100 percent reimbursement to 92 percent."

"By law, we are to receive in June 1984 a delayed double state-aid payment of $785,082 but this receipt is questionable at this time."

"These monetary shortcomings were coupled with a declining enrollment. School buildings on a district-wide basis were about 41 percent vacant; two out of every five student desks were not occupied."

"A plan was developed to reduce the budget and reorganize, with the goal of still maintaining our educational quality." Ovaca continued. "Therefore, the amended tentative budget was developed with a proposed reduction in employee wages."

"To quickly review the past performance of this school district, statistics from the Illinois Department of Education show that we have operated our unit school system on an average of $467,530 less per year than the other unit school districts in the state from the years 1976-77 to 1980-81. Statistics for 1981-82 and 1982-83 have not been compiled as of Aug. 18 by the Illinois Department of Education."

"Both excellence in service and financial responsibility have existed in this district and also are the primary goals of the Board of Education this year."

"The Aug. 8-14, 1983, edition of the St. Louis Business Journal gave results of a survey of the 25 largest St. Louis area school districts, with enrollments of 4,425 to 45,326 students."

"This amended budget's tax rate is 63.4 cents less per $100 of assessed valuation than the average of all the area's 25 largest districts."

"Our proposed estimated budget is $10,038,000 less than the average of the 1983-84 estimated budgets of these same school districts."

"The task of reducing expenditures to be in line with revenues is becoming more difficult to accomplish and still maintain our excellence in service and fiscal responsibility."

"However, the budget reductions and reorganization plan of the Board of Education have enabled the administration to present a proposed estimated balanced budget for the 1983-84 school year."

"Our budget form provides for accrual and cash accounting. It was developed by the district business office in compliance with Section 2-3.27 of the School Code of Illinois and Public Act 81-1003."

"It is also based on present factual information and projected estimates. Revisions and adjustments will be necessary Sept. 20, based on completion of employee negotiations and any changes in our current planned revenues."

In addition, he served as vice chairman of the 1971 Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign.

Master of ceremonies for the event will be Leo H. Konzen of Lueders, Robertson & Konzen law firm. Entertainment will be provided by the Bibb Family, an acclaimed country and western group from Hazelwood, Mo.

The Bibb Family features 14-year-old Kimberly Dawn Bibb as lead fiddler and singer. Kimberly has recently reached the country music charts with her first hit record released under the Natasha Dawn Label featuring two original songs, "Grandpa's Fiddle and Bow" and "Country Fever."

Also participating in the program will be Ginger Booker and Christina

Grooms. Ginger, a 1983 graduate of St. Mary-St. Mark Parochial School in her hometown of Madison and now a freshman at Marquette High School in Alton, was recently crowned the new Miss Hemisphere Teen Talent queen at the 20th annual International Pageant in Philadelphia, Pa.

Christina, the 11-year-old daughter of Larry and Linda Grooms, has won numerous beauty and talent contests over the past 2½ years. She holds three international World titles, 19 national titles and 57 state titles and is the reigning 1983 National Deb Queen and 1983 Miss Gateway to the West Pre Teen Queen.

Thomas V. Majewski, 1983 campaign chairman, indicated that the future of the Tri-Cities Area United Way rests with the many contributions, private donors and volunteers who work in varied capacities in the 16 member communities.

"With the continued high level of unemployment in our area, the demand on our agencies continues at record levels. If we are to continue to provide the vital services to our community in the most cost-effective manner possible, at a time when they are needed most, it is very important that we attain our 1983 campaign goal," he said. Majewski added, "With many of our staunchest supporters among the unemployed, the only way we can reach our goal is for those who have not previously contributed to our communities' cause to come on board and for those who have contributed in the past to bring their level of participation up to a fair share level. If it is not already there."

The kickoff breakfast will be catered by Charlie's Restaurant, with the cost underwritten by special contributing sponsors of the United Way. Reservations may be confirmed by calling the United Way office, 2100 Edison Ave., telephone 877-6780.

Disturbance ends in arrests

Carlton J. Turner, 36, of 4810 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Charles A. Thompson, 25, of 1908 Rhodes St., Madison, were arrested following a disturbance in Kirkpatrick Homes, where police were called at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

When they arrived at the housing complex, officers alleged Turner was standing in the road holding a large pipe and pointing at a vehicle, operated by Thompson, which was attempting to leave the area.

Reports said the two men had been arguing over an incident that occurred about a year ago. Turner alleged Thompson pulled out a knife during the argument and that he went into his apartment and got the pipe and confronted Thompson.

At some point, the pipe was thrown at Thompson, but struck the right headlight of a parked vehicle belonging to Francis E. Costello of Washington Park, who was not involved in the incident. The same auto was hit again when Thompson allegedly made a return throw, with the pipe missing its mark.

Both men were arrested and charged with criminal damage to an auto and disorderly conduct. At police headquarters, Turner was released on notice to appear for a hearing and was taken by a family member to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of cuts to his right cheek and left rib area.

Thompson, also released on notice to appear in court for a hearing, was taken to the medical center for treatment of a cut to his right middle finger.

BURGLARY AT VENICE TAVERN

Twenty-eight bottles of brandy, whiskey and rum in various sizes were stolen in a burglary at Garrett's Tavern, 1961 Douglas St., Venice, it was reported last week by Madison Garrett.

Entry into the building was gained by breaking a window. The burglars also pried open the juke box, taking about $20, but were unsuccessful in an attempt to force open the cigarette machine, Garrett said.

Weber sues county seeking pay for defense attorneys

Madison County officials say they will not pay defense costs for county State's Attorney Don Weber, subject of a special investigation due to allegations made by an attorney.

Weber filed suit against the county's eight circuit judges seeking to force them to appoint defense lawyers for him. Legal papers were served Friday on the judges and Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell, although Portell is not a defendant in the suit.

Weber's suit seeks a writ of mandamus which would force the county to appoint G. Edward Moorman and Donald E. Groshong as special attorneys to defend the state's attorney in actions against him.

A special prosecutor in the case, Attorney Paul Verticchio of Gillespie, was sworn in Thursday by Chief Circuit Judge A.A. Mateosian of Granite City. Verticchio appointed his son, Rick, as assistant prosecutor.

Judge Mateosian denied the state's attorney's request for county-appointed defense counsel last Wednesday. Mateosian also wrote the Groshong and Moorman law firm Friday saying that the firm appears to be in conflict by attempting to represent the state's attorney while defending other clients being prosecuted by the state's attorney's office. "...I suggest that the problem is yours to remedy," he said in the letter.

Friday's lawsuit by Weber is the latest in a series of suits and allegations. Attorney Amiel Cuelo first sued Weber for malicious prosecution after Cuelo successfully defended a man charged with rape. Cuelo alleges that Weber knew the man was innocent, but prosecuted him anyway.

Cuelo has written two stinging letters to the circuit judges about Weber's behavior, alleging that Weber fixed his own drunken-driving ticket, has paid a woman a full-time salary although she only works part time, has forced employees to make campaign contributions and has committed a variety of improper acts.

Weber has filed a $31 million libel suit against Cuelo.

It was Cuelo who demanded a special prosecutor be appointed by the county to investigate allegations against Weber, made primarily by Marvin Darling, a former employee of Weber's office, who Weber fired.

Weber contends that it is the county's responsibility to pay for his defense, since the allegations deal primarily with his actions in the line of his duty as state's attorney.

Weber is a Republican while Cuelo and all of the circuit judges are Democrats.

Q: We've read advertisements in national publications placed by banks who make it sound attractive for one to do business with them, even though they are at a distance. What problems might arise have if he did open an account with an out-of-town bank?

A: First of all, you would lose the convenience of being able to transact business on, in most instances, a same day, or immediate basis. Out-of-town transactions are usually handled by mail, and the mail takes time. Secondly, is the problem of dealing with an impersonal institution—a non-person really—as opposed to people who know you. Even with the smallest of transactions, it is nice to do business face-to-face, with a person who does know you.

But possibly the biggest disadvantage is the fact that your money leaves town. If your money is somewhere out of town, it can't help local small businesses, students, homeowners, potential homeowners and many other people, all your friends and neighbors, while working for you and being conveniently and quickly available.

James Scarborough

James Rill

James W. Scarborough, 63, 2804 Birch Ave., a 30-year resident, died at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18, 1983, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was a patient for six weeks.

He was born in Fort Henry, Tenn., and resided in Dover, Tenn., prior to moving to this area.

Mr. Scarborough worked at the former Union Starch and Refining Co. and Miles Laboratories for 20 years and retired in 1973.

He served with the U.S. Army from 1944 until 1946 and received the Victory Medal, American Theater Ribbon, European-African Eastern Ribbon with Bronze Battle Star, two overseas service bars and the good conduct medal.

Mr. Scarborough was a member of the Christ Gospel Pentecostal Church. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Nola Scarborough, in 1978.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Ruth (Janice) Woodard; a son, Henry Barrow, both of Granite City; two brothers, Robert Scarborough, Granite City, and Frank Scarborough of Dover, Tenn.; and a sister, Mrs. Sidney Pauline French, Granite City.

Visitation will begin at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., where the Rev. Don Townsend will conduct funeral services at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 21. Burial will be in National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

James P. Rill, 76, of 2819 Lincoln Ave., died at 2:53 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17, 1983, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been ill five days and in the hospital the same length of time.

Born Dec. 30, 1906, in Hillsboro, Ill., Mr. Rill lived in Bunker Hill prior to coming to Granite City 51 years ago.

He retired in 1972 as a boilermaker, having worked 50 years in the construction industry through Boilermakers Local 383 of Belleville.

Mr. Rill attended St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Margaret (Snider) Rill; three sons, Jimmy W. Rill and Robert C. Rill, both of Granite City, and Daniel A. Rill of Bunker Hill; four grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Visitation begins at 5 p.m. Monday at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where services will take place at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 20, with the Rev. Terry Shea officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

STREIF HOME TOUR. Approximately 1,700 people toured the former home of Thomas and Janice Brimberry on Saturday and Sunday. The new owner of the residence, Leon Streif, owner of Vandolia Bus Lines, opened the Parkway Drive home to visitors, and members of the Old Six Mile Historical Society led them through while describing details of the big building. The room being shown here is the "spa room." In the background is the "environment room," in which any of five types of climate can be produced.

DCCA said its June withholding of some of the weatherization funds occurred because of evidence that certain homes reported completed were not actually finished or did not meet minimum program standards.

In August, the state released the remaining $100,000 but only on the condition that it be placed in a special account for "corrective work" on homes previously reported as completed.

DCCA is supervising the corrective projects because the EOC said it would do corrections but instead started additional homes, Curtis alleged.

Upcoming events

Entertainment

"Dancin'," the Broadway musical by Bob Fosse, will open at The Muny-Fox Theater on Tuesday, Sept. 20, and run until Sunday, Sept. 25. Performance times are 8 p.m. with matinees on Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. Admissions range from $5.90 to $15.90. Those interested in further information may call 1-314-367-8686.

Senior activities

Hayrides, a weller roast and dancing will highlight the annual fall senior celebration to be observed Wednesday, Sept. 21, by Granite City Township. All Granite City residents, 55 or older, are being invited to attend. Dinner will be served in the large shelter at Wilson Park beginning at 5:45 p.m. with music for dancing provided from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. In the event of rain, activities will be switched to the Granite City Township Building. Those wishing bus transportation to the event may call 677-6584 before noon Wednesday.

Community events

The United Way Kickoff Breakfast will mark the start of the annual fund-raising drive for various non-profit community organizations. Paul J. Kemp, vice president and general manager of A.O. Smith Automotive Division, will be the guest speaker at 7:15 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at the Granite City Township Hall. A blitz contribution campaign will immediately follow the breakfast.

Talk and support

Hypnosis clinics to help individuals stop smoking or lose weight will be conducted Wednesday, Sept. 21, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The stop smoking clinic will begin at 6:30 p.m. The weight control clinic will follow at 8:30 p.m. Those interested in more information or registering may call 789-3385 or 1-217-537-3012. GIRL BITTEN BY GERMAN SHEPHERD

Carolyn Sanders, 5, of 839 Thorngate Drive, suffered bites to the lower back and stomach and scratches on the legs and knees when pushed down and bitten by a German Shepherd at a neighbor's home at 2:05 p.m. Saturday, according to the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The child was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

According to reports, the girl knocked on the door of the Earl Schilling home, 837 Thorngate Drive. When the door was opened, the large dog apparently grabbed the child, knocking her to the ground and inflicting the bites.

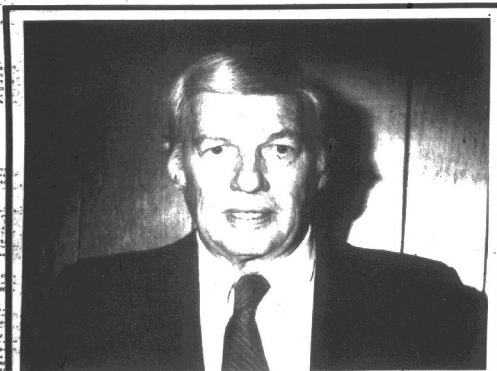

REPORTS BEATING BY TWO WOMEN

Doris Rose, 4037 Galsight Walk, reported last week of going to an address in the 2200 block of State Street to pick up some clothing and being dragged into the apartment by two women who then beat her about the face and body.

Mrs. Rose declined to sign a complaint, but went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Later, Mrs. Rose contacted an assistant state's attorney, who filed an information sheet and referred Mrs. Rose to the police department to complete a battery report.

Driver injured in Rte. 3 mishap

William J. Stone, 46, who lives in quarters at the Granite City Army Installation, was injured at 6:50 p.m. Friday when the station wagon he was driving south on Route 3 left the roadway between Rock Road and West 20th Street.

Stone's vehicle traveled to the right of a guardrail and hit a large tree, but continued on until striking a 1973 Grand Prix and pushing it into a second car, a 1973 Plymouth. Both autos were parked outside the home of John L. Cottrell, 2315 Independence Ave.

Witnesses alleged that Stone's vehicle passed their auto on Route 3 at high speed and then changed lanes, but said the driver was unable to negotiate a curve and left the roadway just before a segment of protective guardrail started.

Officers reported Stone was bleeding badly and lying next to his vehicle when they arrived. Several cans of beer allegedly were on the front floorboards, including an A-12-pack can. A 12-pack container of beer also was in the station wagon.

Stone was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was charged with reckless driving (state) and illegal transportation of alcohol and given a notice to appear for a hearing Oct. 21.

Warriors Meet Kahoks Friday

Maroons maul Warrior gridders in home debut

By ROGER KRAMER

GRANITE CITY — Belleville West's 41-0 win over Granite City High School Friday will not be remembered very long by the Warrior football team nor by the Warrior fans.

"You don't want to remember games like that," said Granite City coach Tom Wyrostek.

Granite City didn't play an extremely poor game. Belleville West simply played a good fundamental game, and there was nothing the Warriors could do to stop the Maroons, now 2-0 this season.

"There's no doubt about it, they played a good fundamental game," Wyrostek said. "In the second half, when our linemen were playing outside, their blockers opened up the middle. When we finally figured that out and moved our linemen in, they used the option plays to take it outside. We just didn't get a good jump on them."

Besides being fundamentalists, the Maroons were also opportunists. Belleville took advantage of three big breaks which enabled them to go to the basics. On the first play from scrimmage, Warrior running back Sean Wyrostek took the ball 13 yards from the 20-yard line to the 33-yard line. On the next play, the Warriors fumbled it away to Maroon defensive tackle Dan Porter.

Three plays later, Maroon quarterback Max Lanson hit halfback Sauerwein with a 24-yard pass for a touchdown with 10:13 left in the first quarter. Sam Ridgeway kicked the extra point.

"Momentum means so much in football. We picked up 13 yards on the first play and then we fumbled it. Instead of having first and 10, they have first and 10 at our 29. You can't give a team like them an opportunity like that because they'll do something with it," Wyrostek said.

After playing evenly for nearly a quarter, a 27-yard punt by the Warriors allowed West to take the ball at the Warrior 37-yard line. It was only a matter of time before the Maroons would score again.

Fullback Murray Fields capped a five-play scoring drive with an 11-yard run up the middle with 10:59 left in the second quarter. The extra point was good.

If it wasn't clear West would dominate the rest of the game then, it became more clear with 3:17 left in the second quarter.

With third down and three yards to go complete a pass in the second half. On the other hand, the Maroons didn't throw a pass in the second half.

For the game, Lanson completed three of six passes for 88 yards. Of course, all of those were in the first half.

"I didn't think we were executing the pass properly," Arnold said. "We decided that we had some things we had

"I think we have a lot of pride on our team. Our pride was injured tonight, but I think we can come back strong next week."

Warrior football coach at West's 40-yard line, Lanson decided to go to the air again. Warrior corner back John Kindle had the ball in his grasp near his 35-yard line. While trying to pick off the pass, Joe Houk grabbed the ball out of Kindle's hands and completed a 60-yard touchdown pass.

"That play really seemed to take a lot out of Granite City," Belleville West coach Bruce Arnold said. "If they would have intercepted the pass, they may have been still in the game."

Granite City would only have one more chance to break the shutout — its final series in the first half. Warrior quarterback Shane Cole pitched out to split end Tom Adamitis, who attempted a pass to Kindle, who was on the right side of the field wide open. However, Kindle couldn't hold on to the pass, and time ran out on the Warriors.

"We made a lot of mistakes, but the young men played hard the first half," Wyrostek said. "We had a fumble, and they caught a pass that we tipped. And we missed on a touchdown pass. If we wouldn't have made those mistakes, we'd go into halftime 7-7. Instead, we go in down 21-0, and it's hard to come back on a team like West."

Once Belleville took a three touchdown lead, Arnold decided to go to the fundamentals. The Maroons didn't to work such as our blocking, so decided to keep it on the ground."

West rushed for 165 yards in the second half and picked up three touchdowns in the process.

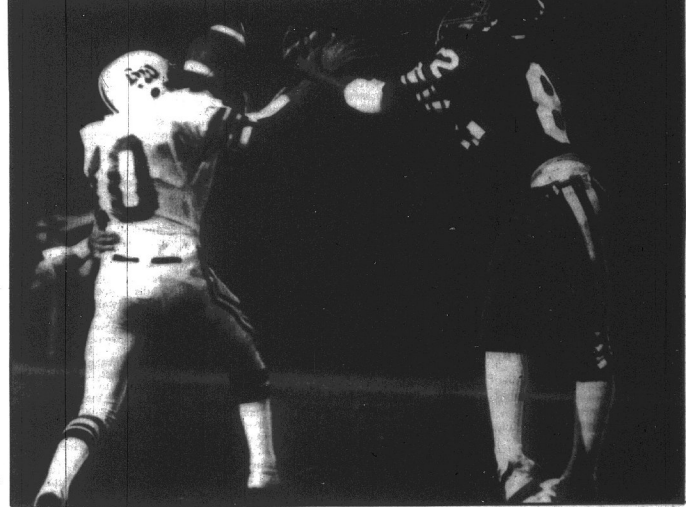

Fields, who rushed 20 times for 117 yards, scored with 9:05 left in the third quarter, the climax of a seven play, 61 yard drive with a seven yard touchdown run with 1:54 left in the third quarter.

West's final score came with 2:39 left in the game, after Arnold put in his reserves. Junior Craig Meyer scored the West touchdown with a three yard run.

"I really thought I saw some marked improvement in our offensive line. Anytime your defense scores a shutout, it's a good effort, but I still think they have some work to do," Arnold said.

Wyrostek believes his team will be able to come back for Friday's game with Collinsville, another Southwestern Conference team, in Granite City. Collinsville, like Granite City, is 0-2 for the season.

"I think we have a lot of pride on our team. Our pride was injured tonight, but I think we can come back strong next week. West is one of the premier

Warriors, Spartans battle to tie

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

HAZELWOOD Last year's Warrior soccer team proved they were the best in Illinois by clinching the state championship tournament in New Trier last November. The Warriors finished the season 28-2, undefeated against Illinois teams.

While last year's Warriors were the undisputed champions in Illinois, they were not as successful against Missouri teams, losing 3-0 to Bishop DuBourg and 1-0 to the Dragons of St. Mary's.

But things are different this year. On Thursday, the Warriors avenged last year's loss to St. Mary's by playing the Dragons 2-0 (see related story).

On Friday, against perennial powerhouse Hazelwood East, the Warriors averted a loss as they battled the Spartans through two 40-minute halves and two five-minute overtimes before the contest ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

By far the Warriors outplayed the Spartans, controlling the ball 60 percent of time and outshooting Hazelwood East 17-10.

Although the Warriors controlled the contest, the Warriors were ineffective. Not by their own doing, but by what can only be termed as "less than favorable field conditions."

Warrior Coach Gene Baker has groomed his team to use the short pass to perfection. That short pass was an effective weapon against the Dragons the night before. But Friday, at Hazelwood East, the Warriors effectively had that short pass taken away from them because of poor field conditions.

"It took us a while to adapt to their field," Baker explained afterwards. "But rather than blame the field for our inability to score, I think some credit should go to them and their coach," Baker graciously said.

The Spartans, now 4-1-2, are a Missouri team to be reckoned with. Their forwards, John Krone and Rich Lyons kept steady pressure on the Warriors much of the afternoon, but the Warriors were clearly more dominant as Spartan Coach Dale Harmon agrees.

"They pretty much controlled the game," the Spartan's eighth year coach began. "We're a young team which doesn't have the apparent depth that they do. I think we were lucky to get out of this one as we did."

Friday's game was the second in two days for both teams. As mentioned, the Warriors were paired with St. Mary's while the Spartans battled sister school Hazelwood Central also to a tie the day before.

"We suffered some injuries yesterday, against Central, and that hurt us today," Harmon said. Missing from the Spartan lineup Friday were two forwards and a center back — most noticeably was forward Tony MacFarlin.

"It made a difference not having him (MacFarlin) in the there today. I'm not saying we would have won, but we could have been more competitive," Harmon said.

The competition varied at different ends of the field like little else. The Warrior attack was incessant. Five times Granite City managed corner kicks. Five times the ball failed to find the net. The Warriors did everything but put the ball in the net.

Conversely, the Spartans ended the 90-minute game without a corner kick. How few times they were successful in penetrating the Warrior defense. Granite City was able to clear the ball without putting it out of bounds.

The Warrior attack Friday was spearheaded by midfielder Nathan Crane. Crane, who has been all year this season with a sore back, moved the ball upfield almost at will, penetrating the Spartan defense.

In fact, it was Crane's shot at 52:15 which appeared to be the Warriors' best shot on goal. Spartan stand-in goalie Dan Koch was just able to get a hand on the shot and deflect it just right of the goal.

Just seconds later, Troy Moore's corner kick to Matt Sheridan, a header, was again just off goal. That's the way things went for the Warriors Friday afternoon. Almost, but not quite.

The Jayvee Warriors, however, were on target as Dave Ames' squad annihilated the Spartan junior squad 7-1.

Scoring for Granite City was Rob Lombardi, who managed two goals, Todd Adamitis, Joe Gray, Dave Schubert, Bill Aleksandrian and Steve Becker. Hazelwood managed its goal in the waning moments of the fourth quarter.

Both teams, Jayvee and varsity, are in action today as they meet Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville. The varsity game is scheduled for 7 p.m. at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Cougar Field.

Warriors turn into Dragon slayers

By ROGER KRAMER

GRANITE CITY — When St. Mary's soccer coach Steve Bettlach defeated Granite City South 1-0 last season, one of St. Mary's two losses that season, he figured he found a way to fool the Warriors.

St. Mary's used an offside trap and caught South offside 11 times last season. This season, Bettlach decided to try it against Granite City High School and got 13 offside calls. Hence it was more successful, right?

Wrong. The Dragons of St. Mary's tried it one time too many. With nearly nine minutes left in the game, the Dragon's halfbacks moved up for a trap, but it was too late. Greg Gobble's pass went past Warrior Scott Blason before the trap, and Blason scored a breakthrough goal.

That goal, along with a second quarter penalty kick by Matt Sheridan, his second of the season, gave the Warriors a 2-0 win Thursday in Granite City and gave the Warriors revenge for last year.

Besides forcing Granite City to commit offside penalties, St. Mary's also outshot the Warriors 11-8 and kept the ball in the middle of the field for most of the game. Bettlach thought the big difference in the game was the goal keeping of Granite City's Jeb Blasingame.

Blasingame, a junior, made nine saves despite the wet field conditions caused by a steady rain throughout the game.

Although Blasingame can take much of the credit for the shutout, he also credited his defense for making his job easier.

"The defense deserves the credit for this game. Matt Sheridan, Sam Tate, Troy Moore and Scott Grote all made some important shots that could have been trouble," Blasingame said.

Blasingame thought the rain made his job a little easier since the rain softened the goal area so he could make the dives less than the mud injury. He said the rain had little effect on his technique.

St. Mary's had four shots on goal in the fourth quarter, and Blasingame turned them all away.

"Blasingame had an excellent game in goal, and Scott Grote had an excellent game and stopped them from setting up on the left side of the field, where they like to attack from," Baker said.

While the defense was doing its job, the offense took advantage of the few openings St. Mary's gave them.

The Warriors set up the ball in front of the goal, but a St. Mary's halfback put his hands on a shot. In the penalty area, giving the Warriors the penalty shot, Sheridan kicked the ball to the right of goal keeper Tim Fernandez for the goal, which was scored at 31:10.

Eight of the offside penalties came in the first half for the Warriors, and they had few chances to shoot on goal.

Gobble and Blason finally broke the trap in the fourth quarter. Gobble passed straight up the middle, and Blason, who dribbled straight down the middle, had little resistance in scoring the insurance goal.

The win placed Madison in the consolation game against Triad.

This match proved to be much tougher for Madison. The Trojanettes had to come back from a first game defeat to win the match in three games, 12-15, 15-12, 15-12.

Serving again played a crucial role in the Madison victory. Zarr and Harris each served seven points in the final game to insure the Trojanettes win.

Civic Memorial won the tournament with 12-15, 15-12, 15-3 win over second place Highland.

This evening, the Trojanettes take on Collinsville at home. Action begins at 8 p.m.

Warriors edge Mascoutah for Invitational title

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — It wasn't the typical cross country race Granite City High School won Saturday. It was sort of a variation on the theme.

In a seven-team invitational, seven runners from each school usually start in a pack and the team with the least points among their top five runners wins the meet. But Saturday's meet at Citizens Park in Belleville sported a difference. It more resembled a tennis match: the number one runner pitted against the other team's top runner, and so on. Belleville West coach Norm Armstrong explained why his race is run differently from other cross country invitational.

"The cross country runner is a quiet, shy type and this type of race spotlights him," Armstrong said. "Most of the kids in the sixth and seventh places have never gotten a trophy in a big meet." These runners, he said, for perhaps the first time in their lives, compete under pressure usually only faced by the top runners.

"The fans, they loved it. An element is introduced into the sport which is usually lacking for the spectator: suspense. And the fans got all the suspense they wanted Saturday. The meet turned into a neck-and-neck battle between Granite City and Mascoutah.

Last week, Warrior coach Pete Robinson decided not to take his varsity runners to the meet at Triad. Instead he opted to coach them through a hard week of practice in preparation for the Belleville meet.

"We've historically had a hard time coming back from our meet (the Granite City Invitational held last week) and running again on Wednesday."

Kahoks down Warrior spikers; GCHS now 1-2

By JIM SCHLUETER
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — The Collinsville Kahok volleyball team may have won two of its first three games, but Coach Jean Willmore hadn't been satisfied with her team's play.

Not until Wednesday night.

That's when the Kahoks downed a stubborn Granite City team 15-13 at Webster School for a non-conference match. Collinsville, 3-2, combined a persistent attack with solid defense to outlast the Warriors, 1-2. The Warriors downed Triad in its first game, but have since lost to Edwardsville and Collinsville.

Early this season the Kahoks had been frustrated when their spike attempts were getting blocked with alarming regularity. But against Granite City they mixed their hard spikes with softer hits and dinks.

Not only did they score some winners by hitting the ball over Warriors poised at the net and finding openings in the Granite defense, but the Kahoks also succeeded in keeping the Warrior defenders from bunching at the net.

Willmore had been waiting for her club to realize that the volleyball team does not win by power alone, and it appeared Wednesday that her message had sunk into her players' heads.

"They just have to look across the net and read the other team," Willmore said. "They looked a lot better tonight, and they played fairly consistently in both games."

The difference in the scores of the two games could be attributed to Granite City's catching fire in the second game. The Warriors had trouble setting up any offense in the first game, but by the second game they got rolling and their amazing defense was keeping them in the game.

"There's talent on this team," Granite City Coach Wilma Schulze said. "We just need the experience."

In the first game the Kahoks broke a 5-3 game wide open by scoring 10 unanswered points. Collinsville's scoring streak was broken by only two side-outs. Highlighting the Kahok rally was a well-placed spike by heading toward Coons, but the Kahok turned away at the last second, and the ball bounced out of bounds. With

Pam Konsky and Coons scored the last two points of day," Robinson said after a jubilant bunch of runners picked up their first-place trophy. "I think it paid off. I think they were really hungry for it."

The improvement exhibited by the Granite runners borders on the incredible. In only a week, five of Granite's top finishers last week cut over a minute from their times.

Though the Belleville course is shorter, at 2.85 miles, Robinson noted the terrain of the course makes the two courses almost identical in length.

Jim Robertson, Granite City's premier runner, took his race and cut his time from 15:37 to 14:37 despite falling down a steep hill in the first loop of the course, edging Belleville West's Jon Burnett (14:40) and Belleville East's Frank Koch (14:43).

In the second flight Keith Bono cut his time from 17:17 a week ago to 16:01, took a fourth in his race. Mascoutah's Brian Brasher took the race in 15:26.

The rules of the race allow each team to drop their highest finish. With Mascoutah shedding their fifth place finish and Granite City dropping their fourth, the two teams were tied at the end of two races, 1-1. The battle had just begun.

In the third race, Darren Bernaix placed second in the race, improving his time from last week (17:27) to 15:59. Mascoutah led Granite City, 2-3, but not for long.

In the next race, Todd Isom, 19-only the second race of his cross country career, improved from 17:37 last week to 15:59, taking the race over Mascoutah's Chris Langley (16:14). Granite City, 4-1, Mascoutah, 3-4.

In the fifth flight, Granite City's Charles Porter (16:49) was bested by Mascoutah's Bob Petz (16:31).

Mascoutah took a one-point lead, 5-6.

In the sixth flight Granite City gained a tie when Steve Houston (16:50) took first in his race by only four seconds over Mascoutah's Chris Donahoe. Granite City, 7, Mascoutah, 7.

It was a classic finish, down to the wire. Granite's Todd Scrum, who a week earlier had run the Granite City 3-mile course in 18:47, finished the race in 17:15, taking the first and clinching the meet for the Warriors. Mascoutah took a seventh in the race but finished second overall behind the Warriors, 8-12. Belleville East finished third with 19 points.

Coach Robinson was pleased with the improvement of all his runners. He felt Robertson had "one heck of a race," especially since he took a fall in the first loop. "It's kind of a scary course," he said. "You can lose a kid for a couple of weeks here."

Robinson's says his goal of qualifying the team for state will require even more work and hopes to see continued improvement. "If we're serious about doing well this year," he said, "we're going to have to all get within 45 seconds of Jimmy (Robertson)."

Even with his cautious optimism about the performance of the team and the potential he feels they have, he couldn't help but give some unqualified praise.

"We're really coming together as a team," he said with obvious pride.

"They're starting to pull together. They're really a great bunch of kids."

And Robinson has good reason to be optimistic. Aside of the rest of the victors, both team and individual, six of the top 10 finishers in the junior varsity race were Granite City runners.

Wednesday afternoon the Granite City girls' team will take on the same course.

In Weekend Action

Stars down Rockford, Sauk Valley; record 2-2

After two losses in their first two games, Granite City Center Stars soccer coach Larry Petri was hoping to break the ice this weekend on their trip north. He wanted to halt his team's losing streak.

The Granite City team returned home with not only the ice breaker, but a bonus victory as well, beating the Rockford College Jayvees on Friday, 3-0, and Sauk Valley on Saturday, 4-1.

"We took advantage of some opportunities this time," Petri said. "We looked a lot different. We played total team defense and took advantage of the opportunities that were given us. We played the kind of style I've been trying to impress on the team."

In the Rockford game, Jim Doyle got the Stars on top in the middle of the first half on a penalty kick. In the second half it became the Tim Dean show.

Dean scored twice in the half, the first coming unassisted and the second on a pass from former high school teammate Benny Nolan. Joe Lemaster got his first shutout, and win, of the season.

Petri explained the difference in the Sauk Valley and the Rockford contests. "We had some problems early, but got a 4-0 lead in the first half," he said. "Our concentration dropped in the second half. We got on the board early and that took them (Sauk Valley) down, but I was hoping we could do a little more in the second half," Petri said.

In the Sauk Valley game, Tim Dean continued his torrid pace, hitting for four goals on the weekend. He started off the scoring on a header from Russ Self and scored again on a sideline throw-in from Kelly Mann.

Dan Ritchie kept the first-half rally going for the Stars with a header off of an indirect kick from Doyle at 25 yards. Russ Self closed out the scoring on a shot from 18 yards on a pass from Rick Mader.

This week the Stars will put their 2-2 record on the line when they host Meramec Junior College Thursday at 3 p.m. Meramec defeated Lewis and Clark over the weekend and Petri hopes he can catch the Missouri power off guard.

"I hope they take us lightly," Petri said. "Maybe we can sneak by them. We've always done well against Meramec."

Petri emphasized the power in the Midwest Junior College Athletic Association (MJCAA). "I think our conference is one of the strongest in the country," he said. "After you play stiff competition, it makes you a better ball club." Petri has proven that.

YMCA begins floor hockey

Boys between the ages of 7 and 12 may sign up at the Tri-City Area YMCA for the upcoming floor hockey program.

Practice starts the week of Oct. 10. There will be two leagues, one for ages seven through nine and the other for ages 10 through 12.

Indoor floor hockey is played similar to ice hockey but the sticks and pucks are made of plastic to insure maximum safety. No physical contact is permitted. The registration deadline is Sept. 30.

The YMCA is looking for adult volunteer coaches to supervise the program. For more information, persons should call the "Y" at 876-7200.

Golfers finish fourth in Scramble Tournament

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City High School Warrior golf team finished fourth in its own Invitational Golf Scramble Tournament Saturday at Arlington Golf Course. The Warriors' three teams finished at 211, just five strokes behind Edwardsville, the tourney winner.

Finishing behind Edwardsville was O'Fallon, Highland and Granite City. In two of the flights, B and C, the Warriors finished second and first, and for much of the tourney were one of the team leaders.

In the B flight, the Warriors' Frank Hayes and John Tackett carded a 68, second only to Alton's Kelly Church and Deavon Retzer. In the C flight, Granite City's Eric Goff and Kevin Schatz won by carding a 69.

With a first and a second in two flights, Granite City was in good position to win the tourney, but things weren't meant to be for the Warriors.

Granite City's A flight team, Jeff Pate and Randy Thurman, finished eighth in that flight dropping them from contention for the tourney championship. The two shot a 74, nine strokes behind Edwardsville's Alex Vandever and Hal Patton who won the A flight with a 65.

"They just couldn't managed to put it together Saturday," said Warrior golf coach Russ Chappell. "In the A flight you face some pretty tough teams. We just got beat."

Mt. Vernon, last year's scramble winner, finished 10th.

This afternoon, the Warriors are, again out on the course as they host Alton Senior at Arlington for a dual matchup. Both teams tee off at 4 p.m.

Trojans Now 0-2

Midgets cut Trojan gridders down to size, 20-14

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record

FREEBURG — It looked like the beginning of a fine day for the Madison Trojans football team as they squared off against the Freeburg Midgets on a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

The Trojans took the opening kickoff and promptly marched the length of the field for a touchdown. It appeared the Madison squad was going to cut the Midgets down to size.

But, in the end it was the Trojans who fell short as Freeburg edged Madison, 20-14.

It was a frustrating afternoon for the Trojans, who gained more yardage than their opponents on the ground and in the air. A fumbled punt cost them dearly and they were plagued by penalties throughout the contest.

The game began well for Madison as they took the ball almost 70 yards for the score. They kept it on the ground the whole way, as running backs Shawn Brown and Kelly Scrum carried the ball to the end zone. Brown carried the drive with a 6-yard burst into the end zone. The attempted kick for an extra point failed.

The Trojans looked equally tough on defense during the Midgets' first series of downs. They stopped Freeburg on the first three downs and forced a punt.

That's when things began to go wrong. Brown fumbled the punt on Madison's 24-yard line, and Freeburg alertly covered the loose ball. The Trojan defense took the field again, but with considerably less success.

Freeburg running backs Steve Krausz and Mark Gordon powered the ball toward the goal line. Madison held the Midgets as they twice tested the line from one yard out. But, on the third try, Gordon broke through for a 1-yard score.

The score remained tied at 6-6 when Madison blocked the attempted kick for an extra point.

The score remained tied for the rest of the half as neither side seemed capable of sustaining a drive.

Madison was unable to capitalize on a Freeburg mistake early in the third quarter. Midget punter Mike Prey came in on a fourth down situation. His punt went straight up and actually landed behind him. Madison got the ball with excellent field position on the Freeburg 26-yard line.

Freeburg held the Trojans there. Midget defensive end Craig Ledbetter provided a key play when he blocked a third-down pass attempt by Trojan quarterback Victor Valentine. On fourth down, Valentine ran the ball himself, but was stopped short of the first down.

That seemed to give the Midgets a lift. They took the ball at their own 23-yard line and drove 77 yards for the touchdown. The key play in the drive was a long gallop by quarterback Brett Carpenter, who carried the ball on a keep-around left end to the Madison 37. The Trojans had a 15-yard penalty tacked on to the gain when they were called for a late hit. On the next play, Carpenter ran the keeper around right end all the way to the Madison 8. Krausz carried the ball three times to the 2-yard line, and on fourth down, Gordon plunged in for the score. Once again, the kick for the extra point was no good.

Madison came back quickly on their next drive. On the first play from their own 43-yard line, Valentine connected with tight end Delander Crochrell on a 27-yard pass play. Freeburg was called for roughing the passer, which took the ball to the Freeburg 15.

Brown carried the ball to the Freeburg 3 for another first down. Three plays later, Scrum's 1-yard touchdown run came with just two seconds left in the third quarter.

With the score tied 12-12, Madison gambled and went for a two-point conversion. Valentine dropped back to pass under heavy pressure, and his desperation toss was caught by tight end Pat Wilson, giving the Trojans a 14-12 advantage.

Freeburg fought back, and they were helped by another Madison mistake. The Trojans were called for a face mask violation on the kickoff, and the Midgets took over at their own 47.

Krausz and Gordon ground out the yardage, and Carpenter's keeper gave the Midgets a first down at the Madison 23. The same play got Freeburg down to the 10-yard line.

Finally, on fourth-and-goal at the 2, Carpenter ran untouched around right end for the touchdown. The Midgets pitched the ball to Gordon for the two-point conversion and he powered it across to give Freeburg the lead, 20-14.

After that, Freeburg's defense shut down the Trojans. Madison's last minute possession ended when Krausz picked off a Valentine pass.

Krausz's interception capped a fine afternoon, as he also carried the ball 17 times for 56 yards. Gordon gained 66 yards on 18 carries and Carpenter carried 10 times for 47 yards. The Midget quarterback completed one pass for three yards.

Scrum led the Madison attack with 55 yards on 13 carries. Brown lugged the leather eight times for 48 yards. Avery Blockton carried five times for 34 yards and Darnell Marshall carried five times for 48 yards. Pat Wilson carried once for 13 yards. Valentine was 4 of 10 passing for 52 yards, with one interception.

Dennis Dalke, Freeburg's head coach, had kind words for the Trojans. "Madison has a good team," he said. "They'll win some games this year. They have good speed and good size, and they hit hard."

But, Madison's Coach Don Smith was disappointed with his team's effort. "Our kids were ready to go when the game started," he said. "But, after they got that first touchdown, they acted like they thought the game was over. We made a lot of mental mistakes. A lot of our upperclassmen just aren't getting the job done."

The loss dropped Madison's record to 0-2. It was the season opener for Freeburg.

O'Fallon downs Trojan kickers

The Madison High School soccer team lost to O'Fallon Thursday afternoon by a score of 2-0.

O'Fallon scored both of their goals in the second quarter, at 29:32 and at 34:00. They outshot the Trojans 10-3.

Coach Gene Briggs of the Trojans said, "We didn't really get any good shots on goal. Our best shots were wide and over the top of the net. But, I was very encouraged by our defense, which kept us in the game. Our goalie, Gary Campbell and our center back, Michael Young, were outstanding."

The loss left Madison's record at 1-2-1.

Warriors finish third in net tourney

The Warrior tennis team finished third in the Highland Invitational tennis tournament Saturday.

The Warriors' first doubles team of Dawn Schwartz and Maria Parra finished second while the Warriors' third doubles team of Robyn Morelen and Linda Briner finished second. Each team received trophies for their efforts.

Highland won the tourney with 18 points, followed by Mater Dei Breese with 15, Granite City with seven points and Hillsboro with 4 points.

The Warriors face Roxana Tuesday afternoon at home. Action begins at 4 p.m.

SIUE women kickers lose

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's soccer team, consisting of eight athletes from Granite City, lost two games during the weekend in New York.

Friday, against Ithaca College in Ithaca, NY, the Cougars lost 2-0. Sunday, against Cornell University, the women Cougars dropped that game by the same score.

Theresa Soellner, of Granite City, made her start in goal for the Cougars. Soellner managed six saves.

This Friday the Cougars meet McCallister College in the first round of the Budweiser Tournament at the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

Connors: A mellowing tennis great

By AL BARNES

on the Press-Record

For a recent Sunday afternoon on the center court at the magnificent center court at Flushing Meadows just out of New York City, Jimmy Connors enjoyed his finest hour on the tennis court. And, in the process, he completely demolished a player who, I predict, will become one of the greatest stars of tennis, Ivan Lendl.

Connors was nothing less than awesome. It was a great moment in a truly terrific career. Most of the fans who watched Connors devastate and tear Lendl completely apart saw a star in complete charge of himself and the championship match.

It wasn't always so. You think John McEnroe was and is a real Brat on the court. Just let your mind drift back 15 years to a hot and sticky day on the stadium court at St. Louis Dwight Davis tennis complex and you would have a view of Jimmy Connors playing for the U.S. Junior crown.

His (Jimbo's) conduct at that stage of his career was almost as bad as McEnroe's. It not worse.

Finally, Witman held his arm up and turned toward ing a young man from California for the Junior (18 and under) crown. Both of the kids were tighter than drums, so tight, in fact, that in the leadoff set, there was seven straight service breaks, four by Connors.

When Jimbo lost his fourth serve, he slammed his racket to the service of the court and promptly charged a newspaper photographer at center court. Connors' target of verbal abuse was the courtly (and now deceased) Post-Dispatch photographer, and General Ike Eisenhower look-alike, Art Witman.

Everyone in the course-side boxes heard Connors' ugly, shrill and nasty tirade. The dignified and coolly collected professional Mr. Witman attempted to calm Connors down but Jimmy's outburst continued.

Finally, Witman held his arm up and turned toward the crowd and in a clear voice said: "Now, listen to this loud and noisy camera, Jimmy!" He held the camera above his head and at first directed it towards the crowd and then, oh, so slowly, swung it around almost into Connors' face.

The camera, especially invented and developed to cover events requiring absolute silence such as tennis and gold matches, and even concerts, etc., was absolutely and completely silent.

To his credit, young Connors spun around on his heels and walked back to receive the next serve. He went on, incidentally, to win the match.

The next day's P-D, surprisingly, carried just one Associated Press wire photo of the match. And, the space which was slotted to carry a full page of tennis action shots, was filled with that of other sports news.

What a difference 15 years makes.

Fleet Auxiliary hears admiral

Admiral Wesley L. McDonald, USN, Supreme Allied Command Atlantic, United States Atlantic Command, United States Atlantic Fleet, was the keynote speaker for the opening ceremony of the National Convention of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fleet Reserve Association (LAFRA).

The four delegates representing Greater St. Louis Unit 267, Ladies Auxiliary of the Fleet Reserve Association were Mary Lee Donnan, who served as chief delegate, Blanche Allen, Mary Burgess, and Ada Matras, of Granite City, who served as sergeant-at-arms during the convention.

The Fleet Reserve Association's National Executive Secretary Robert W. Nolan and Master Chief Petty Officer of the U.S. Navy Crow informed Auxiliary members of President Reagan's special Grace committee on earned benefits of the military service personnel and encouraged members to provide written support for the committee.

Gail Johnson of DeLand, Fla., was elected National President for Association for year 1983-84 and will preside over the 1984 Convention in Hawaii, San Antonio, Texas, was also chosen as the site for the 1985 convention.

Convention activities will be discussed at the next business meeting of the local unit on Sept. 21 at the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Lambert Field, according to the officers.

SIUE course will study the western movement

Students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall will have the opportunity to learn about the Western movement through a course that looks at history from a unique point of view.

Students who sign up for "Great Western Trails (HIST 300-2)" will be introduced to American history through its early trails. Coursework will include a study of such trails as the Oregon, Mormon, California, Santa Fe, Cherokee, Boonville, Hand-carry and Zion's Camp trails.

Class sessions for the course will meet on Wednesdays from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. in Room 3422 of Peck Classroom Building. Instructor for the course is Stanley Kimball.

Some of Kimball's ancestors followed the early Mormon trail in their trek westward to the Great Salt Lake and Kimball has done extensive study on that and other trails leading west.

Professor Kimball has served as a Mormon trail guide for special interest groups, including National Geographic. The historian of the Mormon Pioneer Trail Foundation, he is a vice president of the Mormon History Association, a vice chairman of the Mormon Pioneer National Historic Trail Advisory Council of the National Park Service, and a director of the Oregon-California Trails Association.

SILVER DOLLAR CITY SET CRAFTS FESTIVAL. For the 23rd autumn, Silver Dollar City, located just south of Springfield, Mo., will present its National Crafts Festival, featuring handmade exhibits made with the methods, materials, and tools of a century ago.

The event opens tomorrow and continues daily (except Tuesdays) through Oct. 23.

One exhibit, a two-story log cabin, contains the work of more than 50 craftsmen, including cooking and serving utensils of copper and pewter, oil lamps, split-oak baskets, pine furniture, quilts, buckskin clothing, carved leather paintings, and a muzzle-loading rifle.

The festival also will feature workers in period costumes demonstrating skills ranging from stone cutting to candlemaking, knife making, and chair caning.

Information on the festival and motel reservations may be obtained by calling Ozark-wide Service toll-free at 1-800-492-7092 (from Missouri) or 1-800-641-4202 (from states bordering Missouri).

CHARGE YOUTH WITH CURFEW VIOLATION

Called to the 2100 block of Missouri Avenue, where a girl allegedly was going door-to-door knocking and asking for a ride home at 11:30 p.m., police officers found three youths in a yard with the girl. All ran when the police car arrived.

At the rear of a residence, officers heard the sound of glass breaking and found the girl, 16, had turned over a glass case in an unlighted basement, cutting her hand.

She was taken for treatment to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where medical personnel recommended she be admitted for observation.

Steven L. Duniphan, 17, of 3065 Jill Ave., was arrested at the scene and was charged with a curfew violation.

Madison man arrested in Collinsville

Ronnie Perry, 23, of East St. Louis, was charged by the Madison County state's attorney's staff last week with unlawful use of weapons, a felony because he was allegedly in possession of a weapon within five years of his release from prison, according to Collinsville police.

Perry and a companion, Darrel Williams, 23, of Madison, were arrested after the car they were in allegedly violated a stop sign in Collinsville.

A Collinsville officer said Perry threw away what appeared to be several bullets. Two bullets were later retrieved.

A Smith & Wesson .44 magnum revolver was found later under the front seat of the men's vehicle. The gun was fully loaded with jacketed hollow point bullets, police said.

Williams at one point jumped back in the Cadillac and attempted to flee from Knapp. The officer drew his gun and, enlisting the aid of an unidentified citizen, held the two until four more officers arrived.

Williams was arrested for obstructing justice by failing to give his right name and with battery.

Perry, who police said had been released from Menard State Correctional Center, May 12, was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, failure to have an Illinois gun registration and for being a felon in possession of a weapon.

Williams was held on warrants from St. Clair County and Milwaukee.

Take cash, hams from Venice shop

Cash, hams and cigarettes were taken in a burglary at Voloski's Fried Chicken, 214 Broadway, Venice, last week.

Tom Voloski, owner. Entry into the business firm apparently was gained by breaking a front window. The intruder forced open a cigarette machine, taking an undetermined quantity of cigarettes and coins.

Additionally, a bag bank containing $200, a cloth bag holding an undetermined number of coins, $25 in rolled coins and $25 in other change were stolen.

Three hams also were missing from a refrigerator, the owner said. Venice police are continuing to investigate the case.

IN COUNTY JAIL ON DRUG CHARGE

Kevin D. Lewis, 27, of 4051 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, surrendered to Pontoon Beach police last week on a warrant from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGI) alleging unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

Pontoon Beach officers also served a warrant on him alleging failure to appear in court on a speeding charge, to which he pleaded guilty in court in Granite City and was fined $50 by Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand.

He was held on the MEGSI charge and was transported to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 7:25 a.m. Tuesday in lieu of bond.

Seminars on Economics and credit

The Center for Economic Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a series of 10 seminars in the Belleville area during the upcoming months.

Beginning Sept. 27 and continuing through Dec. 6, the seminars will feature local experts in the fields of consumer credit, insurance, health services, and money management.

Part of a nationwide consumer economics forum designed to provide educators with an understanding of economic concepts and the techniques and materials necessary for teaching the subject, the seminars will be scheduled at Belleville West Junior High School.

Participants will earn four hours of graduate level credit upon the satisfactory completion of the program. Ray Bernardi, director of the SIUE Center for Economic Education, will be the instructor.

The program is sponsored jointly by the university, the Illinois State Council on Economic Education and the Joint Council on Economic Education, and is supported by grants from the Quaker Oats Company and the Allstate Foundation.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Ray Bernardi at 1-800-2733.

Grants offered for study in Germany

The New York office of the German Academic Exchange Service is offering several small grants to be used for study and research in the Federal Republic of Germany, according to Vaughn Lindsay, dean of Graduate Studies and Research at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Exchange Service is a self-governing organization of universities in West Germany.

Funding is available for three months' faculty research grants; language courses for juniors, seniors, graduate students, and faculty; and study programs on political, economic, and cultural life in Germany for faculty, educational administrators, and students, Dean Lindsay said.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Graduate Studies and Research, Room 2202, Rendleman Building, on the Edwardsville campus.

PLEADS INNOCENT,

JUDGE SETS BOND

Michael L. Tomshack, 18, of 2110 W. 20th St., pleaded innocent to a charge of disorderly conduct in an appearance last week in the Granite City court. Bond was set at $5,000 and he was transferred to the Madison County Jail.

Tomshack allegedly awakened people by beating on a glass door and the side of the home, 2037 Bryan Ave., demanding to be admitted, reports said.

Tomshack had left the area when officers arrived, but later was found and identified, it was reported.

Speak UP JOIN BPW

It's not that my job isn't enough. I've worked for years and I love what I do. But I need something more. New ideas. New opportunities. New chances for personal growth.

BPW gives me that. The National Federal of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. An organization that, for more than 60 years, has been the voice of working women. In community after community, all across the country, for women in all kinds of work.

Through BPW I've been able to speak up. But best of all, I've been heard. On issues that affect me...like pay equity and fair retirement benefits. And BPW has also helped me develop the leadership and management skills I use every day...at home, at work, and in the community.

To find out how BPW works as the voice of working women in our community, contact me. I'd love to share BPW with you.

THE VOICE OF WORKING WOMEN

Altar Society elects officers

An election of officers, to serve for the forthcoming year, was held at the September meeting of St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

The members agreed to re-elect the 1983 officers which includes: Mrs. Ann Pieper, president; Sarah Downs, vice-president; Margaret Minzes, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Pieper opened the meeting with prayer and read the minutes of the Advisory Board meeting. Those accorded honors with September birthdays were Toni Dolnic, Anna Kuruz and Cornelia Thebaud.

Plans for holiday parties were discussed and it was decided to host a Thanksgiving potluck on Nov. 8 at 6:30 p.m. and have a Christmas party on Dec. 13 at 6:30 p.m. Members and guests are to contact any officer for reservations and further information, the president noted.

Prizes for the evening were awarded to Elizabeth Balsa and Gloria Falbe. Lunch was served after the meeting and Mrs. Pieper invited all to attend the next session on Oct. 11 to convene at 7:30 p.m.

Local members at DAR Days meeting

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of Granite City, was represented at the DAR Days meeting at Mount Vernon by Miss Ella Ray Smith, registrar, and Emma Hix Schoen, genealogical chairwoman.

State officers and chairmen traveled by chartered bus to Mt. Vernon, Springfield, Princeton, and Glen Ellyn to present to Illinois chapter representatives the projects, programs, and goals for the year's work.

Mrs. Donald Zimmerman, state regent, of Harvel, explained the State Regent's projects, which includes furnishing equipment and solid core doors for the boys' rooms at Tamassee, a boarding school in South Carolina, and updating plumbing in the primary classroom building and landscaping in the Kate Duncan Smith Day School located at Grant, Ala., where boarding students are carefully selected on the basis of need.

Membership gain, as well as furthering the objects of the National Society, is also being emphasized. Women 18 years of age and older may qualify for DAR membership, if they can prove blood lines connecting with persons of proven service during the American Revolution. Locally, assistance may be obtained by calling 891-1248.

One of the national officers, Mrs. James J. Hamm of Hudson, registrar general of the National Society, was in attendance and gave a brief report of her activities with almost 200 DAR members who went to Paris, France, to celebrate the signing of The Treaty of Paris, that officially ended the American Revolution on Sept. 3, 1793.

Mrs. Lois Holsinger entertains Lesche Club

Lesche Literary Club opened its 1983-84 season at the home of Lois Holsinger with 14 members, an associate member, Faith Holsinger and a guest, Mrs. Pauline Miller in attendance. The hostess served a seasonal dessert luncheon.

The meeting was called to order by Bess Henley, president, and all joined in the Club Collect and the pledge of allegiance led by Ruth Ann Bartels and Mary Ann Cochran.

Geneva Miller of the program community distributed the year books and explained the study of the year which will be "The World's Lost Mysteries." She introduced Lois Lester who were the first program entitled "In Search of Fabled Lands," dealing specifically with Atlantis, Eldorado, Land of the Queen of Sheba, and "Who Really Discovered the New World."

In other business the club discussed their continued support of the library and the Garnet Nelson Award and plans were finalized for the annual Guest Day to be held Oct. 11 at the Red Lobster on Dunn Road at 12 noon. The guest speaker will present a program on "How You Can Be Beautiful in Living Color." All members were urged to bring guests and make reservations with Muriel Vohl.

Others present were Burdine Holtzcher, Virginia Johns, Marie Klein, Mary Miller, Peggy Stevens, Connie Strothel, and Verna Stuart.

2 GRADUATE FROM CAREER COLLEGE

Miss Mary George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe George of Granite City, and Miss Carmen Bolin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bolin of Granite City, Illinois, have graduated from Patricia Stevens Career College, St. Louis.

Both majored in the fashion merchandising club of the college, which is accredited by the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools as a one-year school of business.

Mrs. Hartman hosts meeting

The Metro-East Organ Society conducted its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Hartman in Collinsville.

During the short business meeting conducted by President Barbara Williams, volunteers Bea Black, Helen DeChiara and Wilma Edgington were accepted to serve on the nominating committee.

Using the first 24 notes of the well-known waltz "Fascination," Mrs. Williams asked members to insert the musical signs for measures, and to indicate flagged and dotted notes.

Virginia Vandermar, Henry Strickelbach, and Frances David tied for the honor of knowing the most "Rivers" songs played by Mrs. Hartman. Mrs. David also recognized the most songs starting with the letter "R" which were played by members.

Other members present at the meeting were Evelyn Warrick, Loretta Siegel, Elizabeth Novack, Frank David, Anna Austin, and Howard Austin.

The October meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Edgington, who will challenge members with songs about foreign countries and each member will be requested to play a song with "moon" in its title.

Bay View Club opens new season

Bay View Reading Club members gathered at the home of Mrs. Frances Lytle for the first meeting of the 1983-84 season.

A discussion was held on the study programs for the year, which will be biographies of well known people. In keeping with the topic Mrs. E. M. Aronovitz presented the first review entitled, "Bette" by Charles Higham, a study of Bette Davis, movie and television star.

Each one answered roll call with a current event subject followed by discussions on each topic.

Those present were Mrs. Arthur Bunte, Mrs. A. E. Krumsek, Mrs. Chris Louis, Mrs. Lawrence McCauley, Mrs. Dale Rea and Mrs. James Stuart and an associate member, Mrs. G. A. Holtzcher.

Miss Hazel Towery will host the next meeting at Geo's Restaurant at 1 p.m., it was announced.

Madison Jr. Service plans new programs

Jackie Snell and Lynda Skokko hosted the September meeting of the Madison Junior Service Club, where plans for several upcoming events were discussed.

President Donna Woodard led the meeting, and plans were made for a pancake and sausage breakfast Oct. 23 at Madison Recreation Center, with proceeds going to the American Cancer Society in memory of Julia Voloski.

Suggestions were received concerning the Evening with Santa. Jackie Snell reported that pecan sales have begun and all orders and money are due by Oct. 11.

Members accepted donations going towards the purchase of tickets for the Madison fourth graders' trip to Powell Symphony Hall.

Senior Citizen programs topic of Chapter 1340

Granite City Chapter 1340 of AARP met, last week, at the township hall with Ruth Allen, president, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance. After the business session, Program Chairman Helen Bertacchi introduced Ellen DeRiemer of the Golden Rule Insurance Company, who spoke on the subject of Social Security and Medicare and related subjects.

She distributed a booklet, "Government Programs for Senior Citizens" which covered Social Security Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Medicare, Medicaid, Food Programs and other programs in Illinois for the elderly.

While Mr. DeRiemer is an employee of the Golden Rule Ins. Co., she explained her total duty is to learn about and then discuss with elderly groups all possible information she can give them about the available program.

She touched on the delay of the increase of social security benefits until Jan. 1, 1984, and the delay of the increase of the costs of the Medicare premium. She spoke of the coming changes of the type of billing and amounts to be paid to hospitals for specific types of treatment. These changes are only between the Medicare and the hospitals, she added.

It was also noted that income taxes will be due on some social security benefits however, this will be for 1984 reported in 1985 and will only effect those who have larger incomes in addition to their social security. She returned also to the raising of the retirement age in later years. She said Medicare pays part of the cost of Hospice in certain conditions, and noted that St. Elizabeth has a Hospice program.

Guests introduced in the business session were John Serlich, Ellen Ricketts, and Warren and Lorraine Decatur. Membership chairman Elizabeth McMichael presented a membership card to new member Lester Grammann.

Ruth Jensen made inquiries at local grocery markets as to the privileges extended to the elderly and noted that some stores included nutrition guides, handicapped parking spaces, a map of their store to assist in finding items to purchase, and special dietetic sections.

As Community service, Irene Kadane pointed out that recent AARP and Red Cross combined efforts on safety courses emergency training and health programs; and that we had mentioned in the National AARP Bulletin for donation to the Andrus Foundation for Study.

Betta Cotter reported that she had sent over 20 cards to 111 or bereaved. A grant was made to the Granite City Forum meeting tonight at 7 o'clock at the Harold Brown Center; a hayride and waterman at the park sponsored by the Granite City Township, and a dance at the Township Hall given by the Senior Citizens Council.

After refreshments and distribution of 48 attendance prizes, games were enjoyed.

Rollettes meet at Waller residence
Mrs. Joyce Waller entertained members of the Rollettes Club in her home, 2032 Rhodes St., Madison, last week.

Those excelling in the evening games and winning prizes were Jeanette Wilson and Judy Gregory.

A late desert course was served by the hostess; to those named and to Connie Tinsley, Edith Wofford, Helen Warfield, Evelyn Gordon, Kathleen Wofford and a guest, Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Wilson invited the group to her home for the next session.

Xi Epsilon Chi to sell booklets

The regular meeting of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was hosted by Candy Thompson in her home.

Upcoming projects were discussed, including the sale of coupon books and a collection for the renovation of the Statue of Liberty in New York.

Members also learned of a city council meeting on Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. Members attending the meeting were Cookie White, Jane Carbone, Anastasia Elliot, Judy Bartel, and Vickie Thomas, who will host the next meeting at her home in Troy, Ill.

LENDING MONEY IS A TWO WAY STREET

It is the duty of our Association to have the cash available with which to serve the credit needs of our community.

To make this possible, we ask that you lend us your money. We'll protect it, insure it and return it whenever you desire. We'll pay you handsomely for its use.

Lending money is a two way street. We'll lend you ours and you lend us yours. Together we'll make this community a better place in which to live and do business.

Edward Duffins mark 25 years

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Duffin, 2336 Dwight Drive, were guests of honor at a surprise party given by their children in observance of their silver wedding anniversary at the Lions Home in Madison.

Mr. Duffin and his wife, the former Barbara Symonck, were married on July 19, 1958, at St. Joseph Catholic Church by the late Rev. Joseph Jordan.

They renewed their wedding vows, in a church ceremony, preceding the social event.

Hosting the party were Mrs. Richard (Dawn) Pateron and David and Darin Duffin, all of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffin are both employed at Duffin Brothers Lumber Co., Mitchell, and are members of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and the Bubblemasters Diving Club.

Among the 300 guests present were those from out of town, Mr. and Mrs. John Grobowski and children John and Jill of Boone Terre, Mo., Mrs. Nancy Harbany and daughter Laura of Lenexa, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. Georgia Hannan, Mrs. Nora Sherrell, all of Vienna, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. John Anvender of Imperial, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Duffin of DeSoto, Mo.

Preceptor Chapter begins fall season

Miss Terry Gullledge entertained members of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Gamma Phi Sorority to open the fall and winter season of meetings and programs.

President Donna Lane called the meeting to order with seven members responding to roll call. Reports were given by Mrs. B. J. Jones, recording secretary and Mrs. Carol Cathey, treasurer.

The president read communications from the International Office in conjunction with "Ladies of the Year" and the Scholarship fund. Other committee reports included, Miss Gullledge announcing the next meeting will be hosted by Betty Beck who also will give the cultural program; Linda Koenig in charge of service, noted the chapter will be active with Alpha House and the Madison County Nursing Home, this year.

The ways and means cash calendar project was collected from those present and Mrs. Cathey and Carolyn Walsh distributed coupon power books which are being sold publicly for the next month.

Mrs. Walsh reported on one member who is in the hospital and Mrs. Cathey noted four members were ill during the summer.

A review of the activities held during the summer was held with Miss Marilyn Lumpkins reporting on "Beginning Day, held in August with a surprise 'come as you are' breakfast at 6 a.m. at the home of Betty Beck. At tending the early morning affair were, Barbara Hente, Linda Koenig, Dorothy Simpson, Carol Cathey, Mrs. Walsh, Joan Pritchard, Donna Lane, B. J. Jones and a guest, Sandy Cook.

Mrs. Lane told of a swim party at Paddlers Pool in July attended by C. J. and B. J. Jones and son Jon, Carol and Bud Cathey, Don and Donna Lane, Marilyn Lumpkins, Helen Hall and guest, Joan Pritchard and guest, Dorothy and Richard Simpson, Andy and Tonya, Janet Monaghan and daughter Colleen, and Linda and Bill Koenig.

The June social was attendance of "Promises" at the St. Louis Municipal Opera. Present were Betty Beck, Joan Pritchard, Carolyn and Joe Walsh, Don and Donna Lane, C. J. and B. J. Jones, Jim and Barbara Smith, Carol and Bud Cathey and Dorothy and Richard Simpson.

The hostess presented the chapter with a box of chocolates, the announcement of her engagement and forthcoming winter wedding.

Mrs. Lane introduced the cultural program for the night, a presentation on yoga given by Miss Gullledge. She centered her presentation on "hatha" yoga, the physical yoga, explaining what yoga will do for each individual and demonstrated postures and poses.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 28 with an executive board meeting to precede at 6:45 p.m. A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess, after the meeting.

Autumn trip for Venice seniors

Venice Senior Citizen Club members will travel by bus today to Echerts apple orchard and later attend dinner at Duff's Restaurant in Alton.

The trip is limited to members with regular attendance records, according to the president.

Members also are involved in a series of yoga and special exercise lessons, under the direction of YMCA instructor, Ellen Wilson, each Tuesday morning this month and in October.

Home Security is Trio lesson

Helen Miller, Noreen Byrd, and Mary Lou Lybarger hosted a meeting of the Trio Unit Home Extension last week, where local leaders Lucy Stewart and Pat Mitchell who demonstrated different types of locks and alarm systems in their presentation, "Home Security and Burglary Prevention."

Chairman Arlene Brinkmeyer presided over the meeting, and Membership Chairman Audrey Nagy reported on membership status. International Chairman Clara Schilling gave a report on the history of Canada, and Cultural Arts Chairman Helen Roessner informed members that a craft seminar will be held on Sept. 26 in Edwardsville.

Members also learned that Madison County had been presented the state Arts and Crafts award in Home Extension, and Arlene Brinkmeyer commented that current member Min Lee was a member of an old press box team discussed in a recent article by Joe Pollack of the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Craft Chairman Naomi Chapman presented prizes to Lucy Stewart, Lucille Etheridge, and Pat Mitchell.

Former resident announces girl

Lauren Taylor Thuraus is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thuraus of Charlotte, N.C., for their first child, a girl, born on Sept. 8.

The new arrival weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces. The father is a former Granite City and is the son of Mrs. Violet Thuraus, 2509 Waterman Ave., and the late Herbert E. Thuraus. Maternal grandparents are the late James Metzger of Charlotte.

Auxiliary sited for welfare work

Annets Auxiliary Post 204 received a certificate of merit and a letter of thanks from Annets National Child Welfare Chairman Betty Wineland during their September meeting.

Secretary Mae Jean Adams read the letter of thanks, which cited the Auxiliary's donations to the John Tracy Clinic.

President Pat Hartman conducted the meeting, where plans were made for a pizza sale in October. First Jr. Vice President Kim Orensinski reported that the Christmas party will be held on the Goldenrod Showboat in December, and Sandy Diak will be the honored guest at the event.

Members also learned of the district meeting at 2 p.m., Oct. 2, at the new post home on Kennedy Dr. in Madison.

It was reported that 14 members held a memorial service for Auxiliary member Anne Chaney, and members extended sympathies to the her family.

Refreshments were served to the above-mentioned members, as well as Norma Diak, Evadnye Graville, Agnes Baranica, Vi Marcum, Judy Modrusic, Mary Scarsdale, Laurie Griffith, Shirley Dickerson, Flo Leiner, Diane Sherrills, Dorothy Krimanich, Gladys Reeves, Rose Hoffman, and Shirley Brewster.

Chaplain Judy Modrusic closed the meeting.

The next meeting on Oct. 4 will begin at 6:30 p.m. for officers and 7:30 p.m. for the remaining members.

"It's time to let us help you create a new image."

September events at Nameoki Presbyterian

"A Radiant Faith" describes the community Bible Study to begin Tuesday, Oct. 4 at 10 a.m. in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church. The book of Philip- plans will be the basis of the group discussion, and will be led by the Rev. Don F. Pier- son. An invitation is offered to this non-denominational approach to the study of the scriptures.

A Fellowship Breakfast for the congregation was held Sunday, Sept. 18th, at 7:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Men's Fellowship of the church with Al Bagl as the chair- man. "The Christian Funeral: A Time for Car- ing" was the theme of the morning fellowship event.

On Sept. 25, lay leaders from the congregation will present a special service. Nona Corzilius and Marion Pierson will chair the ser- vice. "Why Go to Church?" will be the theme of this Sun- day's message in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church. Morning worship begins at 10:45 a.m. and Sun- day School begins at 9:30 a.m.

In the Continuing Educa- tion provided by the con- gregation, the Rev. Pierson will be attending a con- ference at Sterling College.

Sterling, Kansas, on Sept. 23, 24, and 25. "Renewing the People of God" will have nationally-known leaders presenting various facets of renewal for the local con- gregation. The Rev. Louis Evans Jr. of the National Presbyterian Church of Washington, D.C. will be the keynote speaker.

Rev. and Mrs. Pierson hosted the Windjammers in their monthly meeting Saturday, Sept. 17th, at 6:30 p.m. "People Interacting With Divergent People" was the theme. Fred and Barb Barr are the Skippers of the Windjammers.

The Spirit Sails Mariners for young adults will meet Saturday, Sept. 24th at 6:30 p.m.

Friendly Circle luncheon meeting

Friendly Circle members of Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church opened its fall season of meetings with a luncheon, last week, at Roderick's Restaurant.

After luncheon the group met in the home of Mrs. Virgil Settle for a business session and devotions.

Mrs. Evelyn Thompson presented a lesson entitled, "Don't Forget the People Who Knew You When?"

Final plans for the Sept. 24 bazaar were reviewed as the circle is sponsoring the fund raising event with the assistance of the entire con- gregation.

"Traditionally America" is theme selected for the fall affair and will be carried out in the decor, dinner and crafts.

The bazaar will open at 9 a.m. with chicken and dumpling dinner to be served from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. A child's menu will include Sloppy Joe sandwich with baked beans and a drink. Homemade cakes and pies will be available at an extra charge, according to the chairman.

Tickets costing $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children may be bought in advance by calling 831-3385, 876-0445 or 876-1724 or may be purchased at the church on the day of the project.

Mrs. Settle served tea and cookies after the meeting and announced the next ses- sion is scheduled for Oct. 13.

The business session was led by Mrs. Rachel Westphal. Each one answered roll call with a Bible verse and, then all repeated the 23rd Psalm.

A devotional lesson entitled, "No Not One" was presented by Mrs. Florence Paul and Mrs. Mina Duggins offered the closing medita- tion.

Thirteen members and 10 guest attended.

ORIGINAL HANDCRAFTED DESIGNS. A display of holiday gift items to be offered for sale at the Christmas Bazaar at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue. The public is invited to at- tend the festive event to begin at 9 a.m. and con- tinue through 3 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1. From left is Bert Van, holding a Christmas wall tree.

Florence Woodward, with a holiday wreath and Barbara Landis, co-chairman of the project, holding an ivory color afghan. All proceeds will be donated, on a percentage basis, to the church missions, rehabilitate fund at the church, Tree of Lights and for Christmas baskets for the needy prepared by the Deacons of the church.

Progressive Class birthday dinner

Members of the Progressive Class of Second Baptist Church, met at the church last week for a pollock birthday dinner and meeting.

Mrs. Leoda Cobain gave the opening prayer followed by the group singing, "O Lord Send Me."

The business session was led by Mrs. Rachel Westphal. Each one answered roll call with a Bible verse and, then all repeated the 23rd Psalm.

A devotional lesson entitled, "No Not One" was presented by Mrs. Florence Paul and Mrs. Mina Duggins offered the closing medita- tion.

Thirteen members and 10 guest attended.

Baptist annual meeting set

The annual meeting of the Madison County Baptist Association will be in session on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 29-30, at Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1600 Pon- toon Road, according to the association officers.

The Rev. Roger Wright, associate pastor of Meadow Heights Baptist Church, will deliver the initial message at 2 p.m. Thursday entitled, "Giving Boldly-My Self."

Each church is to bring a vegetable and salad to serve 10 people for the 5:30 p.m. dinner that night. Calvary Church in Edwardsville and Second Baptist Church, Granite City, will furnish the ham and Emmanuel Baptist will provide the dessert.

An organ concert from 6:15 to 6:50 p.m. will feature Jack Jenkins and the second session at 7 p.m. will be on the subject, "Giving Boldly-My Possessions," presented by the Rev. Ralph Dollar, pastor of Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church, Collinsville.

Beginning Friday at 6:30 p.m. the Rev. Charles West, minister at First Baptist Church of Bethalto, will speak on "Giving Boldly-My Witness."

The installation followed a 7 p.m. dinner.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jeremy Firtle, Mrs. Bessie Phillips, and Mrs. Madge Boone and game prize winners were Mrs. Madonna Richman and Mrs. Hilda Barnes.

The meeting was closed with a dismissal prayer given by Mrs. Madge Boone.

Revival opens tonight at Central Methodist

Revival services will begin tonight and continue through Sunday, Sept. 25, at Central Free Methodist Church, 4150 South St. in Pontoon Beach, according to the Rev. Carrol Morris, pastor.

Services commence at 7 o'clock each night and Sun- day services are at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. The church is located at Lake and South streets, four block south of Pontoon Road and one block west of Highway 111.

The Rev. Gerald VanTine, pastor of Shelbyville Free Methodist Church in Shelbyville, Ill., will be the evangelist.

He holds a degree from Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee and with his fam- ily has traveled extensively in evangelistic work. He has pastored for 16 years in The Nazarene Church and for the past eight years in the Free Methodist Church.

An accomplished musician on the organ and piano, Rev. VanTine has made several recordings. He will perform musically each night as well as deliver the sermon.

His son, Geron VanTine will lead the singing services during the weekend. He currently is attending Green- ville College where he is enrolled in music courses. The young man traveled with a gospel singing group known as "Free Spirit" and plays the trumpet as well as sings.

Rev. Morris extends an in- vitation to the public to at- tend all the services.

A MESSAGE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS:

Let's put the cost of electricity in perspective.

Over the past 40 years
the cost of a kilowatt-hour of electricity
from IP has increased 51%

Over the years, the price of nearly everything you buy has increased. Some items have gone up more than others. That can affect everyone's lifestyle, particularly senior citizens.

During this time, electricity from Illinois Power has remained remarkably affordable. There was even an era not too long ago when we were able to reduce our rates on 11 occasions.

In recent years, electric rates have begun to climb back up again. We're not pleased to see that happen. Illinois Power has worked to improve efficiency and cut costs wherever possible, while maintaining the type of reliable service you expect from us. That, of course, still requires that we build new facilities to keep ahead of your growing demand for electric energy.

Illinois Power is committed to providing energy dependably, at the lowest possible price. We believe that all our customers deserve that kind of effort.

Shots are fired on riverfront
Receiving a report of shots being fired at the boat launching ramp on the Venice riverfront during the weekend, officers arrived to find about 20 persons on the ramp.

One man in the crowd reported having been assaulted by two other men, who had discharged a rifle and a shotgun before leaving in a pickup truck. The man declined medical attention. Those in the riverfront area were advised to leave. Most were from Granite City and Madison.

The boat launching facility, soon to be renovated, is owned by the city of Venice.

Mini-courses focus on history and economics

The department of historical studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer several new mini-courses during the fall quarter.

The courses, most of them meeting once a week, are designed for students who would like to explore one or more specific historical topics in a brief but intense period of study. There are no prerequisites.

"The Age of Discovery (HIST-300 Sec. 1)" will consider the expeditions of early Norsemen, Columbus, de Gama, Magellan and others in light of the social and economic impact that such voyages had on Europe and the rest of the world.

The technological, intellectual, economic and religious facets of the age will be assessed to better understand historical cause and effect. Classes for the course will meet on Tuesdays from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m.

"Great Western Trails (HIST-300 Sec. 2)" will meet on Wednesdays during the same time interval. This course will take a close look at America's long progress to the Pacific.

Excerpts from contemporary sources, photographs, films, and other sources will convey the "pioneer spirit" that has not only characterized western expansion, but has contributed to America's growing interest in frontier mythology.

"The Russian Revolution of 1905 (HIST-300 Sec. 3)" classes will meet on Thursdays from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. The causes and effects of the revolution, which has been regarded as a "dress rehearsal" for the great revolution of 1917 by some historians, will be examined within the framework of the turbulence sweeping across Russia and much of Europe in the early years of the century.

"The Japanese Economic Challenge to the U.S. (HIST-300 Sec. 5)" sessions will meet from 12:30 until 1:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays at the East St. Louis Center.

The course should be of interest to anyone who is concerned with the economic status of both countries and the manner in which they affect one another.

Additional information concerning any of these courses may be obtained by contacting the SIUE department of historical studies by calling 1-692-2414.

BAC offers support group

Belleville Area College is giving men a chance to get together to discuss divorce trauma, mid-life crisis, financial affairs and other concerns.

The Men's Support Group will meet at 7 p.m. every Tuesday in the President's Conference Room at the college's Belleville campus, 2540 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

BAC counselor Ray Modrell will serve as facilitator for the group. He will introduce discussion topics and recommend reading material applicable to members' concerns.

"The main strength of the group will lie in the exchange of ideas and thoughts of participants and, most of all, in the eventual realization that it's neither unusual nor wrong for men to have and share problems," Modrell said. "Men are human beings too."

The support group will be patterned after one established by the college for women three years ago. That group, under the direction of Every Woman's Center Director Pat Brian, has successfully helped women through lifestyle changes such as divorce, death of husbands, empty-nest syndrome and return to school or work force.

Confidentiality and freedom of expression will be emphasized, Modrell said. There is no charge to participants.

Interested persons of all ages and backgrounds are welcome and new members may join at any time, he added.

Further information is available from the BAC Counseling Center, room 2240 at the Belleville campus, 1-235-2700, extension 368.

GC bicycle thieves

Eight bicycles were stolen early last week in Granite City, according to reports received by police.

A $300 Mongoco bicycle was stolen for the third time from the home of Judy Free, 2223 Fourteenth St., she reported. The 20-inch chrome machine was locked at the time of the theft, she said.

Two 10-speed bicycles, one valued at $129, were taken from the rear of the Mary Burris residence, 2920 Myrtle Ave.

Earlier in the week, Paul Davis, 3229 Kilmer Drive, said his 20-inch silver gray bicycle worth $130 was taken from outside Ruth's Cafe, 10th and State Streets. Joe Schuler, 3237 Newell Drive, reported a 20-inch red bicycle valued at $125 was taken last week from his garage.

Don Huckleberry, 2324 Delmar Ave., said an orange 10-speed bicycle worth $35 was stolen last week from in front of 2221 Washington Ave.

A thief entered the garage of James Fuhrman, 3144 Yale Ave., and stole a black 10-speed bicycle valued at $140.

Someone also got into the rear yard at the home of Dave Beebe, 2155 Benton St., and stole a 26-inch, 10-speed silver bicycle, the owner reported.

ORGANIZING BLOOD DRIVE. Red Cross personnel and representatives of employee and service groups discuss the second annual community blood drive scheduled for Friday, Sept. 30. It will be at the Tri-City Chapter building at 21st Street and Edison Avenue. Around the table from lower left are Eric Gyaki, Granite City postal service employee; George Cook, United Way; T. A. Feeler, Knights of Columbus; Charlyne Lenox, a Red Cross consultant from Missouri-Illinois Blood Services; Gwen O'Guin, director of the local Red Cross chapter; Ola Jones, Church Women United; and Lucetta Wright, representing the employees of Granite City. Attending, but not pictured, was Dolores Vogeler, Red Cross volunteer chairman.

Community blood drive Sept. 30

Red Cross personnel and representatives of several service organizations and employee groups met last week at the offices of the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross to discuss the second annual community blood drive scheduled for Friday, Sept. 30.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Gwen O'Guin, director of the local chapter; Ola Jones, representing Church Women United; T. A. Feeler, Knights of Columbus; George Cook, United Way; Lucetta Wright, representing the city employees of Granite City; Eric Gyaki, Granite City postal employees and Dolores Vogeler, chairman of the Red Cross volunteers.

A guest at the meeting was Charlyne Lenox of the Missouri-Illinois Regional Blood Services office of the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter of the Red Cross. Her office coordinates the various blood drives throughout the two-state area.

The community blood drive will take place from 2 to 7 p.m. Sept. 30 at the Red Cross building, 21st Street and Edison Ave. The regional blood services consultant stressed the urgent need for donors, especially at this time of year, explaining that the majority of donors are college and high school students who are just getting back to school and have yet to give blood. Critical shortages occur during the summer months when these donors are not readily available.

She also said that the summer-long heat wave has had a negative effect on the number of donors in recent months.

The Red Cross consultant said another reason for a decline in donors is the current AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) scare and the false information that a blood donor could catch the disease by giving blood.

"There is no chance of anyone getting AIDS by giving blood, absolutely none," Mrs. Lenox said. "We use disposable needles for each donor, so no needle is used more than once."

There has been a nationwide decline of 5 to 7 percent in the number of donors, some of which is believed attributable to the unfounded AIDS scare.

The Granite City area has a 2,300-pint yearly goal and the regional blood services will shorten their wait in line. But donors will be welcome, even if they are not scheduled. Donors are able to give every 56 days, or eight weeks.

Healthy persons 17 years and older may give blood, but potential donors over age 66 need a recent health statement from their doctor to give blood.

The entire process takes less than 45 minutes with the actual donation taking only 5 to 10 minutes.

Philip Hagen is Natl. Merit semifinalist

About 15,000 young men and women across the country are being honored by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) as Semifinalists in the current Merit Program were announced last week. These outstanding high school seniors will have an opportunity to advance in the competition for about 5,300 Merit Scholarships, worth more than $18 million, to be awarded in the spring of 1984.

More than one million students from some 18,000 secondary schools entered the competition last fall by taking the PSAT-NMSQT in their junior year. Those who qualified as semifinalists include the highest scorers in every state and represent the top half of one percent of this year's senior class.

It is hoped that public recognition of these academically talented young people will broaden their opportunities for higher education.

tion, a spokesman said. The tentative career plans of semifinalists consistently reveal a variety of goals, but usually about half of these able students choose to concentrate their undergraduate studies in science, mathematics and engineering.

MADISON CHARGES DRIVER WITH DUI

Receiving a report of an erratic driver last week, Madison officers found Raymond Valencia, 44, of 1689 Market St., Madison, seated in an auto in a field at the rear of the 900 block of Reynolds Street. A bottle of whiskey allegedly was lying on the car seat.

Charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and illegal transportation of alcohol, Valencia was later released after posting a $200 cash bond. He is to appear in the Granite City court Oct. 21.

Brolin settled in 'Hotel'

By Alan L. Gansberg

HOLLYWOOD — For years he held out, saying another series was not in the cards for him, but now JAMES BROLIN has settled on ABC's "Hotel" because he feels, "It has exceptional writing and I think it's a natural, a good idea for a series."

The former Dr. Kiley of "Marcus Welby, M.D." is cast as the manager of the San Francisco hotel that caters to the wealthy and sophisticated as well as the middle class on a plurge.

His boss is none other than BETTE DAVIS, who will make special multiple appearances, but promises no cameos "because that's cheating my fans."

Also guest-starring in a recurring role is ANNE BAXTER, who will be reunited with Davis for the first time since they both starred in "All About Eve."

CONNIE SELLECCA also stars as Brolin's right arm, and the cast is rounded out by SHARI BELAFONTE, SHEA FARRELL, NATHAN COOK, HEIDI BOHAY, and MICHAEL SPOUND.

"We've got a good time slot," Brolin added, and indeed they do — right after "Dynasty."

"I love 'Hill Street Blues,'" Brolin added. "And I feel we will have the same quality. I get the feeling this is an important project."

KATHARINE HEPBURN has had a host of leading men beside her, but there are those who would find beefy NICK NOLTE an odd partner for her. But, the duo goes before the cameras in September on "The Ultimate Solution of Grace Quigley."

MICKEY ROONEY, TESS HARPER, HAL HOLBROOK and JOSEPH BOTTOMS have signed to star in the NBC mini-series "Celebrity," based on the book by the late Tommy Thompson.

RICHARD GERE will play the Judean King David in a feature being planned on the biblical figure. Production is set to begin in January at a cost of $26 million.

It's a tough job, but someone has to do it. BARRY BOSTWICK will portray a famous American whom everyone has heard of and has an image of — George Washington — in a CBS mini-series for next season.

CHARLES FRANK, last seen as a regular on "Filthy Rich," has come aboard "Emerald Point N.A.S." the new CBS series originally announced as "Navy" as a Navy flier. He's also awaiting release of the feature "The Right Stuff," in which he portrays astronaut SCOTT CARPENTER.

CHRISTINA FERRELL, wife of JOHN DELOREAN, the car magnate indicted for cocaine selling, returns to the screen this season on an episode of "Fantasy Island." She'll be a woman trying to salvage her marriage.

The next NBC special for GEORGE BURNS is aptly titled "80 Years in Show Biz," since the still active (or more active than ever) Burns is 87 years old, and began as a member of the PeeWee Quartet more than 80 years ago.

NBC also has given the nod to the producers of "Buffalo Bill," the summer series starring DABNEY COLEMAN, to produce more episodes for airing sometime during the regular season. The ratings weren't the best, but the network said the critical acclaim pulled the show through.
